STERLING HAYDEN As Wanderer docked

BACK FROM TAHITI Sad News Mars Hayden Arrival

By RANDALL GOULD
Sterling Hayden's homecoming from Tahiti yesterday was saddened by his first word from shore.
As the yacht Wanderer, 41½ days out of sight of land, was being drawn by lines to the jetty of Sausalito's yacht harbor, Hayden leaned over the rail and heard for the first time that his friend Larry Lovett of the Independent-Journal had died just three weeks before.
"I'm terribly sorry," he cried. "He was quite a man."
"Did he get an exclusive out of that cable of mine?" Hayden referred to a cablegram he had addressed to Lovett last Sept. 8, giving first word that he planned to bring his schooner back to California direct.
Told that his thoughtfulness to Lovett had worked out as he intended, Hayden said "I'm glad of that, anyway."
Hayden said he had received no word during the trip as to what legalities might be awaiting him on arrival. But he didn't seem surprised when told that Marin Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich was taking no action provided he went to Los Angeles to thresh out a contempt proceeding because of his sailing for Tahiti with his four children in violation of court order.

"I'll be going down to Los Angeles about the middle of the week," he said. "Fly? No, I'll take the Lark and get a little rest."
"Hey!" he interrupted himself with somewhat incongruous thought of a more immediate legality. "Get permission to put a line over there! I don't want to get pinched for putting a spring line across somebody's dock without permission!"
Meanwhile the four children, tanned like their father, were beaming at new arrivals over the schooner's rail.
Christian, 11, Gretchen, 9; Matthew, 7 and Thor, 10, indicated they'd been having a mighty fine time.
"Wonderful!" was the word applied by 17-year-old Grant Cooper Jr., who sailed back as part of the crew and who had just been greeting his father, who had come aboard as Hayden's lawyer.
"I'll stay in Los Angeles just as short a time as I can," said Hayden. "No, I don't know whether I'll see my former wife, or whether she'll see the kids."
"What I want to do when I can is get a house on the Marin coast somewhere near here, the edge of Tiburon maybe."
"I don't just know where Tiburon and Belvedere separate but I've got an idea that Belvedere is a little rich for my blood."
Hayden ran through his resources on the 10-month trip which he called "a search of truth . . . hard to find." He started a movie in Tahiti, to be "one honest picture" about sea life, but the money ran out. Now, he said, he has a book under way.

Marin Road Work Bid Opening Set

Bids will be opened in Sacramento Dec. 16 for a $1,250,000 Marin County highway project involving construction on Highway 101 between the Lucas Valley road and 2 tenths of a mile south of San Pedro road, north of San Rafael.
The work involved includes an interchange, frontage roads and connections.
Officials of the state Division of Highways describe this job as another in a series designed to convert Highway 101 north of San Rafael to full freeway standard.

WEATHER MAN SAYS PATTERN WILL CONTINUE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The present weather, typical in Northern and Central California for November, should continue unchanged through tomorrow, the forecaster said today.
Temperatures are near the seasonal normal, there is fog and low clouds on much of the coastline, and local morning fog in the northern and central valleys.
Winds, both coastal and inland, have been mostly gentle and variable in direction.
The five-day forecast, through next Saturday, said occasional rain is likely in the northern counties late in the week, with snow in the high mountains.

Hub To Study 5 Bids For Administrator

Five candidates are still in the running for city administrator of San Anselmo, but city councilmen may narrow the field tomorrow night, Mayor Arthur W. Smith said today.
The five names are to be discussed by council members after what is expected to be a brief meeting to complete an agreement for city purchase of the first unit of the Sorich Dairy property, being annexed to San Anselmo as a corporation yard and possible park site.
Of the five candidates still under consideration, it was learned, three are in California, one in Arizona and one in New York.
The city administrator is to be paid up to $9,000 per year to perform functions similar to those formerly performed by the city manager, but without the latter's authority in personnel and spending matters.

Explosion Knocks Out Power In Town Hit By Cold Wave

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (UPI)—An explosion and fire in a manhole knocked out electric power to most of this community of 10,000 persons today as a cold wave plummeted temperatures to below zero.
A civil defense emergency was declared. Officials feared today that service could not be restored for 12 to 24 hours.
Residents whose furnaces were knocked out by the power failure took refuge in public buildings heated by steam from the municipal power plant.
The explosion knocked out the main feeder line which carried power from the plant into the distribution system. Two workmen were injured slightly.
Eight emergency generators were being sent to the city to supply power to nursing homes and other buildings.
The hospital and radio station KWOA were functioning with emergency equipment. The radio station is broadcasting emergency messages.
The city's power system is municipally owned, and cannot be hooked into any other system serving the area. Steam used to generate power is channeled into a number of downtown buildings for heating.
The failure knocked out all furnaces, ranges, and other facilities operated by electricity.

Weapon Costs May Cut U.S. Research Work

Ike, Defense Brass
Agree On $41 Billion
Budget For Military

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—President Eisenhower and the defense high command today agreed on a 1961 military budget of about 41 billion dollars with the strong prospect of having to reduce or eliminate one or two major research programs to meet the rising cost of other new weapons.

They also discussed manpower cuts in two branches of the armed forces, but apparently reached no decision.

LONG HUDDLE
The President met in the trophy room of the Augusta National Golf Club for three and a half hours with Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and a large delegation of officials closely concerned with military spending.

Before flying back to Washington with his delegation in the early afternoon, McElroy told reporters that while there was general agreement today on the over-all size of the new defense budget, it still remained to be decided the extent to which certain research programs must be cut back or dropped to fit within the objective of about 41 billion dollars.

FINAL APPROVAL
McElroy said he expected the defense budget to be "locked up" or completed finally within 10 days. Final approval will come at a meeting of the National Security Council, the date of which will depend on when Eisenhower decides to return to the White House.

Maurice H. Stans, director of the budget, said he expected the over-all 1961 budget, to be submitted to Congress early next year, would be completed and on the way to the government printer before Eisenhower leaves Dec. 3 for a 20,000-mile world trip.

ONE MORE SESSION
Stans said he had to have at least one more conference with the President on the over-all budget, either in Washington or Augusta, late this week. Eisenhower has not decided whether to return to the nation's capital this week or stay in Georgia until shortly before Thanksgiving.

This year's budget has been teetering between red and black. It is a question now whether it can wind up with a surplus after the impact of the steel strike on personal, corporate and government incomes.
If a surplus does turn up, it will be only the third Eisenhower has achieved in seven tries.

OWL 'BOOKED'

San Rafael's Fourth street was relatively quiet this morning except for this bird caught disturbing the peace. Officer Richard Douglas heard a commotion and caught the owl, which had apparently hit a store window and crashed to the sidewalk. The owl was held without bail at the Humane Society for transfer to the Junior Museum. The bird didn't seem to give a hoot; it merely clammed up during the entire booking procedure. County Urged To Hold Up On Army Property

A "wait and see" policy on acquisition by Marin County of 161½ acres declared surplus at the northern end of Ft. Cronkhite will be recommended to the board of supervisors in a report to be prepared by David Van Pelt of the county planning commission staff.

Commissioner Margaret Azevedo moved and the commission approved today a resolution to this effect, after Van Pelt reported on a trip through the fog to the site yesterday.

GOOD VISIBILITY
"I think Mt. Tamalpais can be seen from there," said Van Pelt cautiously, saying that visibility had been all right to San Francisco and the sea beaches. He said there is a high ridge 500 feet over the water, and a deep bowl.

"The future route of Highway 1 would be all-important," he said. A routing through either the forts or Tennessee Valley would pass through this property, which has flat land giving wonderful views.

"It could be a very good introduction to people coming from San Francisco and here for the first time looking up our coast with its interesting shoreline. But it's wholly dependent on where the highway goes."

NO TIME LIMIT
Dr. William Upton, chairman, asked if there were any time limit as to acquisition. Van Pelt said there was no stated limit as yet. The highway decision, he felt, should be made by "at latest, the middle of next year."

A question arose as to what percentage of people walk and ride to church, as the commission considered an application for architectural supervision of the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church to be built between an extension of Tarry road and the Sleepy Hollow School.

"I don't think a one to six ratio of parking places against seats is realistic, on my observation of people going to church," said Commissioner Azevedo. The staff report found the proposed 6-1 ratio "substantially short" of possible needs. Church representatives agreed to approval, conditional on provision for a 3-1 ratio.

Plane Bound For L.A. Goes Down In Fog

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—A giant airliner mysteriously plunged without warning into the fog-shrouded Gulf of Mexico early today, apparently killing all 42 persons aboard.

The four-engine National Airlines DC7B on the Miami-to-Los Angeles run carried 37 passengers and a crew of five.

Wreckage and some of the bodies—clad in life jackets as though passengers had obeyed the crew's orders to don emergency equipment for a ditching—were found floating in the oil-slicked waters of the gulf about 120 miles south-southeast of here.

By 3 p.m. the Coast Guard reported that eight bodies had been removed from the water. They were not immediately identified.

HIT WITH FORCE
The fact that clothing had been stripped from some of the bodies and the condition of the shattered wreckage indicated that the plane struck the water with great force.

The fog, which lifted just long enough for aircraft to discover the frightful scene of disaster, settled in again as boats began lifting bodies from the water this afternoon.

Wind was blowing the wreckage over an area of two to three miles, further complicating removal of bodies and recovery of pieces of the fallen plane, necessary to determine if possible the cause of the tragedy. There was apparently no suspicion of sabotage at the moment. A Federal Bureau of Investigation team was sent to the scene but apparently only to identify victims from fingerprints.

EXPERTS PUZZLED
The tragedy left aviation experts mystified as to what happened to the ill-fated flight that took off from Tampa, Fla., shortly after midnight on the over-the-gulf flight to New Orleans.

At 1:43 a.m., about 30 minutes out of New Orleans, the crew made its last report. The pilot reported visibility was unlimited but that he could see a solid overcast of fog looming up ahead and below the plane. The control tower at New Orleans Moisant International Airport radioed instructions for the plane to drop from 14,000 feet down to 6,000 feet, a normal step in landing procedure for New Orleans.

The plane was given the weather conditions at Moisant. They were wretched.

Ceiling was down to 200 feet with three-fourths of a mile visibility. There was light fog. It was drizzling rain. The ceiling was below the minimum for landing except for an emergency. The pilot said he would stay at 14,000 feet a while longer.

There was no further word. As the hours lengthened it became evident that the plane was down and a search was started. In its early stages, pilots braved death themselves over the foggy gulf, flying almost at wave tips in a crisscross of the water.

Another National plane finally spotted the wreckage and bodies as the fog lifted in mid-morning.

BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE
It's Open Season On Abominable Snowmen

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—The abominable snowman hunting season opened today in the Himalayas with one fast rule: Bring him back alive.

A six-man Japanese expedition under Dr. T. Ogawa, professor of anatomy at Tokyo University, received permission from the kingdom of Nepal to start the latest search for one of the legendary monsters of the mountains which Nepalese call Yeti.

Nepal, which charges a special tax for snowman-hunting expeditions, ruled that if a Yeti were found, it could not be shot or injured in any way. It could be photographed.

Ogawa is convinced that Yetis exist. Most Nepalese agree with him. So do a number of Russian scientists who have organized expeditions in the past.
One Russian scientist said his team got close to one two seasons ago in the snowbound Himalayas and described the creature as being ape-like, with silvery hair.
According to legend, the Yeti is a seven or eight-foot tall creature which walks erect and leaves huge, strange footprints in the deep snows. Some Nepalese think it is cannibalistic.
In 1957, Texas oilman Tom Slick headed an expedition to try to find an abominable snow-

LAST PORT OF CALL, PAPEETE—After sighting no land since Tahiti, Sterling Hayden's schooner Wanderer crept slowly past the Sausalito waterfront early yesterday afternoon and backed under power to moor against a jetty of the Sausalito Yacht Harbor. All on board, including Hayden's four children, reported a wonderful 41½-day voyage. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean) about 5 o'clock last night. There was a pretty good breeze out there."

Herb Madden, one of Sausalito's old-time nautical men and an owner in the Yacht Harbor project, boarded the Wanderer and was warmly greeted. He gazed around a trim ship admiringly and softly said, "Oh, what a thing it would be to get out on this!"

Sausalito residents who had watched the Wanderer slowly proceed under power, with sails furled, past the length of the waterfront were hastening along the slippery harbor jetty. They included Mrs. Marjorie Brady, Sausalito city councilman and with her husband Col. Brookner Brady, enthusiastic owner of a craft considerably smaller than the 66-year-old former San Francisco pilot boat.

Hayden's one direct comment on the district attorney was "I don't know what he's done."

Not among the welcomers, Weissich in San Rafael said: "I have had correspondence with Mr. Hayden, and have his written agreement to report to the court in Los Angeles. Therefore I dropped the criminal charges here."

"It was through my efforts that Mr. Hayden changed his plans and agreed to return voluntarily to face the music in Los Angeles. I therefore ac-

Vandals Damage Boy's Car Twice

Michael Lee Kennedy, 16, of 8 Hacienda court, San Rafael, is wondering what someone has against his 1950 model convertible auto.

On Friday night, while the car was parked near San Rafael High School someone bent the horn rim, the shift and turn-signal levers and the choke.

Then Saturday night, while the car was parked on Mission avenue across the street from the high school gymnasium, someone splashed blue paint on all of the car's windows.

San Rafael police said young Kennedy was unable to explain the assaults on the auto.

Wrong Chute

ATIKOKAN, Ont. (P)—Customers complained they were not getting stamps from a new stamp machine in the post office. Officials found the stamp slot stopped up by a letter which someone thought he was mailing.

BUT NOT ENOUGH

Suspect And Evidence Both Prove Slippery

Both the evidence and the suspect proved slippery as San Rafael police arrested a 21-year-old Novato man Saturday for investigation of contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Sharp-eyed Officer Eugene Frederick saw Russell Jackson of 773 Diablo avenue purchase a bottle of vodka at a liquor store at 1008 Third street. With Jackson was a youth, who later proved to be 19.

Frederick stopped the pair outside the store and asked to see identifications. Satisfied that Jackson was of age, but his companion was not, he inquired how they got to San Rafael. "By bus," said Jackson.

But parked nearby was an auto with four youths inside—two 16-year-olds, one 17 and another 18. Officer Frederick looked at the name on the car's registration card. It was Russell Jackson.

Satisfied with his sleuthing, Frederick turned to collar the liquor buyer. But Jackson and his 19-year-old companion had disappeared.

Frederick called for assistance. Two more officers arrived, and found the missing pair walking down A street. There was no sign of the bottle of vodka.

Pressed by police, Jackson finally admitted hiding the bottle under a parked car. He led the officers to the car.

Frederick reached for the bottle. Its slippery surface slid from his fingers. There was a crash—and vodka on the pavement.

Undaunted, the officers gathered up the broken glass as evidence and booked Jackson into the county jail.

Coast Guard Locates Dog That Bit Boy

Evan Weber, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Weber of 153 Marion street, Mill Valley, may avoid the unpleasant experience of undergoing a series of anti-rabies inoculations—thanks to the efforts of the Coast Guard.

Young Evan was nipped by a small dog 10 days ago in a Sausalito laundry. The animal then returned to its home—the 35-foot yacht Sea Wife of Seattle, which had been berthed at Sausalito. Friday night, the yacht departed for parts unknown.

Under Marin's health laws, a biting animal must be kept under quarantine for 14 days. Unless the dog were under observation for that time, health authorities said the youngster would have to undergo painful rabies inoculations.

The Coast Guard, notified of the boy's dilemma, launched a search of the bay for the missing craft. Yesterday, the search ended 500 yards from Cove Rock in Richardson Bay, where the yacht was found moored.

The dog was turned over to Marin County authorities, the Coast Guard reported.

Steel Strike Slows Job On Bay Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—The steel strike has delayed conversion of the lower deck of the Bay Bridge.

Norman C. Raab, engineer for the state Division of San Francisco Bay Toll Crossings, said today: "Because of the strike we are at least four months behind schedule."

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (P)—The stock market closed sharply lower today. Trading was heavy at the close with the ticker tape late for the third time in the final hour.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,600,000 shares compared with 3,050,000 Friday.

Losses of fractions to more than a point prevailed among pivotal issues. Some electronics and specially-situated issues gained several points.

Losses of more than a point were taken by U.S. Steel, Republic Steel, Illinois Central and Texaco.

'I Drive Too Fast,' She Says, Rightly

"I always drive too fast!" said Mrs. Marie JoAnn Cerles, 34, as she sat on the ground by the Tennessee Valley road two miles west of Shoreline highway Saturday afternoon.

Gazing at her overturned car, State Highway Patrolman T. E. McGuire was disposed to agree. He issued a citation for traveling too rapidly around a curve with an estimated 25 mile-an-hour safe speed.

In the back of the car was a loaded and cocked double-barrel shotgun and the Marin County sheriff's office issued a citation about that. Mrs. Cerles, a Mill Valley resident, explained that no hostilities had been intended and that the gun belonged to her son.

Disputes Grow Over Wilderness Area Use

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Population growth is beginning to produce conflicting demands for the use of this country's forests and wilderness areas, a government forestry expert said today.

As a result, forest management is due for some sharp changes, said Charles A. Connaughton, regional head of the U.S. Forest Service, in a paper prepared for delivery to the Society of American Foresters.

One of the conflicts is between timber producers and the growing army of people seeking recreation in the wooded areas. Timbermen want to cut trees as soon as they are developed enough for profitable harvest; recreationists want the trees oversize and average—at least from the timber producer's standpoint.

Another area of conflict, Connaughton said, is between users of forest ranges and groups of people favoring undergrowth preservation for the benefit of wildlife.

The forester, he added, also is between groups who want watershed areas closed to the public in the interests of fire protection and those who want these areas left open for recreational or other public use.

As one example, Connaughton cited a controversy now existing over the use of the 500,000-acre Kern Plateau in Central California. Until recently this had been a wilderness area. But as the need for its resources became apparent, Connaughton said, roads were built into it with the idea of developing it for a variety of uses.

The conservationists attacked this idea, the forestry expert said, on grounds that the wilderness area of the United States already is too small and that the Kern Plateau should be left untouched. The dispute still isn't entirely settled but a decision has been made to continue to develop the area for multiple use, he said.

Driver Dozes; Car Hits Power Pole

Carol Leah Eaton, 26, of Mill Valley told California Highway Patrol officers she apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The next thing she knew, she said, there was a loud crash.

Miss Eaton's 1948 model sedan, which was going north on Highway 1 south of Mill Valley Saturday left the road and hit a power pole, snapping it off at its base.

The pole and its wires crashed down on top of the car. But the car and driver continued on, finally stopping on the west side of the road and leaving the pole lying across both north and southbound lanes.

Miss Eaton escaped uninjured. She was cited for driving on the wrong side of the road.

High Court Rejects Hoffa's Hearing Plea

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa and his scandal-stricken union lost out in the Supreme Court today in their efforts to challenge the "clean up" orders of the watchdog board of Teamsters monitors.

In a terse order, the high court left standing lower court rulings upholding the right of the monitors to issue anti-corruption orders against Hoffa and his subordinates.

The court's ruling represented a major setback for the union in its fight with the monitors board, which was set up to eliminate racketeering and corruption within the giant union.

In another major action, the high court agreed to a Justice Department request that it review lower court decisions restricting its right to enforce Negro voting rights in Macon County, Ga.

In other actions today, the high court:

1. Refused to hear the appeal of eight men convicted of the famous $1,219,000 Brink's holdup in Boston. The men claimed they received a "trial by press" in violation of their constitutional rights.
2. Denied a hearing to seven Negro teachers who contended their race cost them their jobs during the 1955 integration of Moberly, Mo., public schools. The action left standing lower court rulings that racial considerations were not a factor in their dismissals.
3. Ruled, 6-3, that the government can impose only one penalty—not two—against a person who fails to file a declaration of estimated income tax. The court acted in the case of Fred N. Acker of Cleveland.
4. Set Dec. 7 as the day for arguments on the long-standing dispute over the use of Tuscarora Indian Land in New York for the Niagara power project.

Big Apartment Project Slated For Sausalito

A 30-unit million dollar luxury waterfront apartment building is planned for Sausalito.

In making the announcement, Sol Langsam of Langsam Realty, Sausalito brokers, said construction may be finished by next June or July, depending on the starting date.

ON BRIDGEWAY

The building, to be constructed of steel and wood, will be located between Richardson and Main streets with frontage on Bridgeway boulevard and Front street.

Langsam said a permit for a 39-unit building was issued by the city about two years ago, and there was considerable opposition at the time from Sally Stanford, operator of the Valhalla Restaurant. She said the building would block the view from her establishment.

NEW PLANS

Langsam said the new plans have been presented to the planning commission, and have been turned over to a planning commission committee for study.

He said no rezoning is needed, but there will have to be certain variances for encroachments and a building permit will have to be issued.

The land is now owned by the City Title Co. of San Francisco, and is to be purchased by Walter L. Benson, president of Views Land Co., Sausalito, Langsam said. Benson will be contractor-owner.

ARCHITECT

Langsam said Michael Wornum of Mill Valley has been retained as architect.

"This will be the only building of its kind in Sausalito," Langsam said. He said the building would be built out on either steel or concrete piers, and would have four 100-foot floating piers for the use of residents.

There will be 30 two-bedroom apartments in five buildings of six units each. "Start of construction will depend entirely on when all the necessary permits are granted."

Wolfe Grade School Opens On Schedule

The new Wolfe Grade School at 25 McAllister avenue, Kentfield, opened on schedule today, complete with office in a 42-foot mobile home.

The 175 pupils and six teachers reported to their new classrooms without any interruption in their studies, which had been carried on at A. E. Kent and Greenbrae Schools until the new school was completed.

The only problem to be worked out at the new building is that of the triple road crossing children must make to reach the school. A California Highway Patrol officer was on duty there today, and school officials assured parents that an adult will be there when children make the crossings.

Youth Breaks Arm In Scooter Mishap

Stephen D. Price, 15-year-old son of Mrs. Dorothy Z. Price of San Quentin, suffered a broken arm, a scrapped face and loss of a tooth Saturday when the motor scooter he was riding flipped over.

Young Price and a passenger, Lawrence O. Jacobsen, 16, son of Ordel Jacobsen of 137 Park street, San Rafael, took the tumble at about 8:35 p.m. when the scooter went out of control on DuBois street between Woodland and Irwin streets, San Rafael police reported.

The injured driver was reported in satisfactory condition in San Rafael General Hospital. Jacobsen was released after treatment for multiple scratches of the face, arm, leg and toe.

Sausalito City Council To Eye Ferryboat Use

H134—3 SAUSALITO CITY

The Sausalito City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow, will again consider the use of the ferryboat Berkeley, and will discuss the proposed abandonment by Northwestern Pacific Railroad of service to Sausalito.

Also the council will consider navigation hazards in Richardson Bay, and the resignation of Victor E. Hecht from the planning commission.

REPORT EXPECTED

A council-appointed committee to study the application of Luther Conover to install Trade Fair Inc. on the Berkeley is to report on parking, toilet facilities and insurance concerning the commercial use of the boat.

The council will hear a letter from W. E. Buck, executive vice president of American Distilling Co., requesting opposition by the city to the NWP proposal to discontinue freight service. The rail line has contended the operation is too costly because of steadily decreasing amount of freight.

BOAT HAZARD

The city council will consider asking the Coast Guard or other responsible agencies to see what can be done to eliminate navigation hazards in Richardson Bay, including Cone Rock, which lies just below the surface of the water at high tide, and has been a hazard to small boating. The rock is not charted.

Hecht, chairman of the planning commission, is submitting his resignation because he wants a rest, he said in a letter mailed to city hall. He said he has served seven years under three mayors, and thinks the job should now go to some other interested person.

The board said the license was revoked under sections prohibiting abandonment of projects and failure to complete projects at contract price.

Fire Board Will Hear Report On Chief Test

The Tiburon Fire Protection District Commission will hold a closed special executive meeting tomorrow to hear the report on the Tiburon fire chief oral examination.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse, according to commission secretary Kelly J. Wheeler.

A representative from the firm of Louis J. Kroeger and Associates will report on results of the oral and written examinations of Franklin J. Buscher, only applicant who passed the written exam.

After the special closed meeting, a special open meeting will be held.

At that time it is expected the commission will take action on appointment to the job. Present Fire Chief Jack Ishmael will leave the job Dec. 5.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the fire telephone communications system, and a report on the recent inventory of firehouse equipment.

Crowd Totals 3,084

Supt. Frederick M. Marti-shang reported that 3,084 people visited Muir Woods National Monument over the weekend.

He also said the total of 451,400 visitors recorded as of the end of October exceeded the 451,030 for the entire calendar year of 1958.

As it has been every year since the creation of the first "car of cars", the goal of Cadillac for 1960 was improvement in every phase of construction and assembly. And the mission and accomplishment have been one and the same. The superb and flawless workmanship that has always set Cadillac apart from other cars is even more marked today. With some two-score advancements in design and engineering, Cadillac again establishes a new hallmark of quality. See for yourself at your earliest opportunity.

HOW D'YA SPELL SANTA?

Prompted by a peek at a new Christmas catalogue loaded with toys, little Jan Jarboe of Richardson, Tex., donned the frames from an old pair of glasses and wrote a letter to Santa Claus. With Christmas still six weeks away, the 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Jarboe insisted that her daddy mail the letter right away. (AP Wirephoto)

Headaches Called Pain in Neck

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

A University of Southern California professor of Neuro-surgery says that headaches are actually pains in the neck. What the professor means is that the most common cause of headache is neck sprain.

You see, there are twenty-four bones known as vertebrae in your spine. These vertebrae are somewhat moveable. A fall, a minor accident in which the head is snapped out of position or even poor posture can cause a slight misalignment of one or more vertebrae.

The headache results because nerves branching out from the spinal cord are pinched by the moveable vertebrae. A headache, of course, is really only one of nature's warning signs that something is wrong.

Nerves pinched by vertebrae can cause many serious ailments besides headache. Nerves flow down the spine to all cells, organs, and muscles of the body. Your body cannot function properly when nerves are pinched. A proper supply of nerve energy is needed for health.

Chiropractors are well-trained in removing such nerve interference.

Suspect Admits Killing Hillsborough Officer

REDWOOD CITY (AP)—Alexander Robillard, 19, pleaded guilty today to a charge that he murdered a Hillsborough policeman, Eugene Doran, last Aug. 5.

The unexpected plea of guilty was made after selection of a jury from a panel of 50 veniremen.

The jury then was seated as an advisory panel, to fix the degree of penalty, and make recommendations to Superior Court Judge Frank B. Blum.

If the penalty is first degree murder, the jurors will decide whether to recommend the death penalty or life in prison. Judge Blum could disregard the recommendations of the jurors.

Robillard had pleaded innocent. There had been indications he would substitute for this a dual plea of innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Robillard is charged with gunning down officer Doran when the policeman stopped him to check his car on Skyline Drive against the description of a stolen car.

Demos Study Effects Of Disarmament

"Is it possible to have disarmament without economic depression?" Bennett-Skewes-Cox of Ross, California Democratic Central Committee member, asked in a talk to about 25 North Marin Democrats yesterday in Novato.

The speaker's conclusion was that a depression is not a necessity if business, government and industry plan together for a peacetime economy.

Skewes-Cox cited housing, hospitals, highways and schools as a few of the projects worthy of the dollars which could be saved by the cessation of the armament race.

The meeting was held at the Novato home of Mrs. Harold M. Sawyer. It was one of a series of study meetings scheduled under a plan advanced by the California Democratic Council.

Car Destroyed As Torch Ignites Gas

A welding torch, automobile upholstery and tankful of gasoline do not mix well. Especially if a fire extinguisher is not at hand.

So learned Don Jenswold of 535 Midway boulevard in Novato Saturday afternoon when his 1949 two-door Ford sedan went up in flames.

"The car was a total loss by the time we arrived," said Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero.

Jenswold, who was welding the frame of the car when it ignited said he did what he could before the fire department arrived.

"All I had on hand was a can of water," he said as he surveyed the ruins of his car, which he valued at $200.

MILK SHOULD BE FINE FOR MIXING EGGNOG

STANTON, England (UP)—Sixteen cows that got drunk this weekend returned today to their regular diet of water and grass.

Mrs. Anne Potts said she spotted the herd staggering across a meadow Saturday. Several of them fell, others were hiccupping and a few were mooing happily.

She said the herd accidentally had been given 16 buckets of barley meal which fermented in the cows' stomachs, producing a built-in drunk.

Workers on the Potts farm helped hold up the drunken animals and lead them to a water trough.

2 Ex-Crime Partners In Prison Fight

Two San Quentin Prison inmates, former partners in crime, must face the prison disciplinary board tomorrow as the outcome of a fight in which one was slugged with a two-by-four board.

Erise Harris, 27, was accused of slugging Oliver Rogers, 40, with a two-foot length of two-by-four, sending Rogers to the prison hospital with an egg-sized lump on the head.

Both are serving grand theft terms from Los Angeles County, where they were once partners in crime, said Irving Ritter, prison business manager.

Ritter said prison officials did not know the reason for the fight in the prison yard Saturday.

Sacramento Work Hours Staggered To Ease Traffic

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Thousands of state employees who work downtown started staggered shifts today in a move to ease traffic congestion.

There are nearly 20,000 state workers in the capital, and surveys show about three-quarters of them go to work in cars.

Under the new plan, shifts start at 7:30, 7:45 and 8 a.m. and end at 4:15, 4:30 and 4:45 p.m., replacing the standard 8 to 5 shift. Lunch hours have been cut from an hour to 45 minutes.

State officials hope the staggered shifts will end traffic jams in the morning and evening hours.

Suspect Pleads Innocent Of Slaying Widow

DOWNIEVILLE (UP)—Larry Lord Motherwell, 43-year-old Washington, D.C., construction worker, pleaded innocent today to a grand jury murder indictment.

Motherwell was indicted by the Sierra County Grand Jury late last month for murder in the mysterious death of elderly Washington widow Mrs. Pearl I. Putney, 72, at the end of a cross-country tour.

Superior Court Judge Winslow Christian, who set the defendant's trial to begin in this Sierra Mountain community Jan. 11, turned aside defense attempts to have the grand jury indictment dismissed.

Motherwell's California attorney, Robert A. Fugazi, served notice he would appeal to a higher court Christian's rulings that the grand jury had enough grounds for a "probable cause" indictment. Under California law, the appeal must be filed in appeals court at Sacramento within 15 days.

Judge Christian also refused defense arguments that the indictment was worthless because only 18 members of the regular 19-member jury panel were present, and that grand jury members ate lunch at a Downieville cafe during the noon recess with members of the general public, including the judge and Dist. Atty. Gordon I. Smith.

Door Collapses As Man Opens Store

The front door at Gallen-Kamp Shoe Store in San Rafael toppled and shattered this morning when the manager unlocked the door to open the store for business.

Officer John Rosentangle said there were small pry marks on the hinges, which might indicate someone tried to break into the store.

Carl Asch, manager, reported everything looked normal until he unlocked the front door. The door suddenly fell off the hinges and crashed on to the floor.

Deputy Hospitalized After Heart Attack

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Leal suffered his third heart attack last night and is recovering at San Rafael General Hospital.

He had been on restricted duty since his first attack. About 8 o'clock last night, he was stricken at a restaurant in Bolinas. His wife took him to the hospital.

Board To Be Quizzed On School Plans

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees tonight will be asked their plans for development of a 30-acre high school site which the district is buying in Marin City.

The question will be put by Bert Klahn, executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority.

Klahn has twice charged that the district board "broke faith" with the authority by failing to include construction of a Marin City school in the district's proposed expansion program.

The board also will hear a presentation on the district mathematics program by teachers from Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools.

The meeting will start at 8 o'clock in the district office on the Redwood campus in Larkspur.

Hallinan Trial To Start Tomorrow

A jury trial for Terence (Kayo) Hallinan, accused of felonious assault against a Fairfax youth, is scheduled to start tomorrow morning before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court.

Hallinan, 22, is accused of breaking the jaw of James W. Thalhammer Jr., 18, of Fairfax, outside a bowling alley at Greenbrae last May 29. Thalhammer and his buddies contend that the attack was completely unprovoked. Hallinan asserts the other youth had his hands up as if to strike, and he struck in self defense.

Belvedere Planners To Study Annexation Plan

The proposal to annex part of Tiburon will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Belvedere Planning Commission at 8 o'clock in the Belvedere Community Hall, according to chairman George Goddard.

The commission will study the request from the Tiburon Chamber of Commerce for Belvedere to annex a portion of Tiburon, which was forwarded to it by the City Council.

Cranberry Growers Make New Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The national cranberry stew bubbled again today with a new protest from growers.

Chicago health officials were holding a shipment of Wisconsin cranberries which they said were contaminated with the same kind of weed killer found earlier on some West Coast berries.

C. P. Olson, president of Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., a national cranberry cooperative, asked President Eisenhower to declare as disaster areas the cranberry-growing states of Washington, Oregon, Wisconsin, New Jersey and Massachusetts.

In a telegram sent from Plymouth, Mass., to the vacation White House at Augusta, Ga., Olson asked Eisenhower to "provide immediate relief to thousands of small farmers for losses caused by the unnecessary, untimely and imprudent action" of Welfare Secretary Arthur S. Flemming.

At a news conference last Monday, Flemming said traces of a weed killer had been found in some of the cranberries grown in the Pacific Northwest. He said the weed killer, Amino-triazole, had caused cancer in rats when it was included in their diet.

The secretary advised against eating the berries until tests could be made to be sure they contained no traces of Amino-triazole.

The cranberry growers immediately protested that Flemming had pulled the rug from under them just before the holidays.

Two shipments of cranberries grown in Oregon were seized last week by health authorities. On Saturday, the Chicago Board of Health seized 20 tons of cranberries grown in Wisconsin and impounded them. The board said its tests showed four of six samples of the shipment were contaminated with the weed killer.

Sales of all cranberries and cranberry products were barred in Chicago.

Flemming will meet with cranberry growers here Wednesday.

'Rights Bill' For Teachers Under Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A citizens advisory commission on the public schools will decide next month whether to recommend a teachers' "bill of rights" to the California Legislature.

The bill of rights, approved Saturday by a commission subcommittee, would assure teachers more pay, greater prestige and more freedom from administrators.

The subcommittee proposed that competent teachers be paid as much as principals and their salaries be at least as high as persons in comparable occupations.

The committee declared that an "able, experienced teacher needs little supervision" and suggested that administrators refrain from unnecessary interference in the classroom.

It also urged stricter education and teaching experience requirements for administrative credentials.

The full commission will decide whether to include the subcommittee recommendations in its report to lawmakers at the next commission meeting Dec. 11-12 in Sacramento.

Gas Station Plan Hit

SANTA CRUZ (UPI)—The California Federation of Service Stations has unanimously adopted a resolution opposing the new service station dealer lease plan of the Standard Oil Company of California Western Operations, Inc.

The action came yesterday during the final session of the federation's third annual convention.

The federation charged that Standard's new plan restricted the rights of independent businessmen, restrained competitive commerce and monopolized the sale of the company's products.

HAIR FACTS THAT COULD SAVE YOU FROM

BALDNESS

If the hair above your temples is receding at an alarming rate, your hair and scalp are in an abnormal, unhealthy condition; no amount of frenzied washing is going to overcome the condition. Here are the facts: When the tiny follicles have been permitted to get clogged with dirt, grime and germ-laden particles, the application of water and soap never gets them really clean.

So each crop of replacement hair (old hairs are constantly being replaced by sturdy new ones) grows shorter and weaker. Eventually the weakened follicles seal up completely and cannot produce any kind of hair.

Then what happens? Baldness develops rapidly. And unless it is stopped in time by scientific professional treatments such as have given us a national reputation, you will be bald sooner or later. We have waged a relentless and successful fight against baldness for many years.

An aggravated, sealed-up scalp on which replacement hairs can't possibly grow does not get better. It grows steadily worse. If you don't relish the idea of getting bald, come in very soon — no appointment necessary — and let us give you our Free Hair and Scalp Examination.

This in no way obligates you. We will tell you frankly and honestly how much we can do to help Nature restore your hair.

RAILFANS HAVE CAMERA FIELD DAY

Some of the 250 railfans who took a special Northwestern Pacific Railroad passenger excursion yesterday snap pictures of excursion train as it emerges from tunnel just south of San Rafael. This was one of a series of photo stops on the special run, which started from Tiburon, made the leg to Schellville, returned to Ignacio to head north to Santa Rosa, then came back to its starting place. Original plans to take the train to Sausalito — which would have been the first passenger run there since 1951—were canceled by the railroad. (Independent-Journal photo)

Arabian Monarch Wants U.N. To Withdraw Aqaba Force

By WILTON WYNN
RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP)—King Saud wants the United Nations Expeditionary Force withdrawn from the Aqaba Gulf area and the restoration of the Arab ban on Israeli shipping in the gulf.

The king's political counselor, Jammal Hussein, made this statement on behalf of the Saudi Arabian monarch to three American correspondents in the royal palace.

The newsmen had sent the king a set of questions. After discussing them with Hussein, he authorized his counselor to reply in his name.

Saud's "opinion of United States Arab policy in general is a very good one. The question of the existence and support of Israel is the only source of misunderstanding between the Arab-Moslem world and the United States," Hussein said.

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A new arctic storm swept out of Canada into Montana yesterday and had most of the Rocky Mountains and Northern Great Plains in its grip today.

Temperatures today dropped as low as 37 degrees below zero. Snow driven by winds up to 60 m.p.h. in parts of Kansas, the Dakotas and Montana yesterday reduced visibility to near zero in some localities.

Winds died down during the night, and limited visibility was reported today at only scattered sections in western Nebraska and northwestern Iowa.

Low temperatures included 37 below zero at Helena and 32 below at Butte, both in western Montana. Billings, in the east, had 13 below. Sheridan and Cody, both in northern Wyoming, had 23 below zero. Akron, Colo., near the Kansas line, had two below.

Cold wave warnings were posted for most of the Rockies and the Midwest, with sharp drops in temperature and snow in store for more than dozen states.

COLD INVASION

The cold weather was expected to invade most areas from eastern Wyoming and Colorado, northwest New Mexico, northwest Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri and northwest Illinois.

Below zero readings were predicted for northern states, along with strong northerly winds and snow.

At Scottsbluff, Neb., the temperature dropped from a yesterday afternoon high of 64 to zero by midnight. The temperature in Denver fell 29 degrees in one hour last night.

20-INCH SNOW

Helena, Montana capital that took the brunt of a record storm last midweek, reported a 20-inch snow depth with about six inches of new snow.

The new storm dropped two to six inches of new snow over Montana, but all main highways remained open. Air travel was halted, but trains and buses managed to keep near schedule.

In western Montana, authorities were looking for two missing hunters, Fred Miller and Joe Kent of Hamilton, Mont. Officers said they apparently became lost Sunday while hunting with three other men. Snow in the area is 14 to 16 inches deep.

Auto Club Service

LaSalle's Texaco Service on the Tiburon highway, Tiburon, has been appointed contract emergency road service station for 24-hour service to members of the California State Automobile Assn., according to William F. Lennon, district manager.

DOCTOR STILL GOING STRONG AT AGE OF 99

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Lindsey S. McNeely, at 99 possibly the nation's oldest practicing physician, gives no thought to retiring.

"Who would take care of my patients?" he asks. He has been practicing almost 70 years.

Dr. McNeely observed office hours as usual on his 99th birthday Saturday. He declined a proposed community celebration in favor of "just another day" at his office-home in nearby Kirby.

Woman Says She Gave Blood To Missing Cuban

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An American woman says she donated blood directly to Maj. Camillo Cienfuegos while the Cuban government sponsored a widespread search for him.

A copyrighted story in the Sunday Miami News quoted Vani L. Maris, 39, a practical nurse, as saying Cienfuegos lay apparently near death during the transfusion Nov. 5.

Cienfuegos, who disappeared Oct. 28 en route from Camaguey to Havana in a light plane, was mourned by the Cuban government Saturday. Mrs. Maris could not be reached for elaboration on her statements. She was described as a native of South Dakota and former medical technician in Reading, Pa.

The News said Mrs. Maris, wearing nun's dress because it "opened doors" went to Camp Liberty near Havana after reports that Cienfuegos was injured in a plane crash. She asked to give blood for the major, whom she knew personally.

CHARLES YOUNGCLAUS
Diamond Star 4-H rank

Fairfax Boy Gets High 4-H Honor

Charles Youngclaus, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus of 10 Court lane, Fairfax, is one of four northern California 4-H Club members named a Diamond star—the highest state rank attainable in 4-H Club work.

The four were chosen from a field of 12 final Diamond Star candidates nominated by county committees. They were selected by a committee of five members of the faculty of the University of California agricultural extension division.

Youngclaus, who is named "outstanding boy" in his graduating class at Francis Drake High School in 1957, is now majoring in agriculture at Fresno State College.

He and the three other winners will attend the National 4-H Club Conference in Washington, D. C., next April 23-29, representing the 33,000 4-H Club members in California.

Youngclaus, a member of the Ross Valley 4-H Club, has been in 4-H Club activities since 1951. He and the other candidates were selected on the basis of their overall 4-H Club work.

Two years ago, the Fairfax youth was a state winner in poultry. In 1953, he helped to develop the 4-H Club reporter program over radio station KTIM. He also was cited for junior leadership while active with the Ross Valley club.

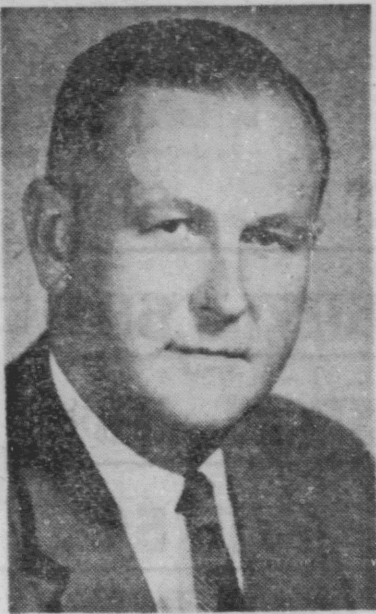

Since attending Fresno State College, Youngclaus has leased a 20-acre parcel near Fresno where he has grown corn and cotton, and last year produced two bales of cotton per acre, considered an exceptionally high yield.

Others named to the Diamond Star rank were Felicia Schaps, 19, of Auburn (Nevada County); Marie Haws, 20, of Anderson (Shasta County); and Malcolm Niles, 20, of Loleta (Humboldt County).

The winners were announced at a dinner at the Cliff House in San Francisco Saturday attended by the 12 finalists; their parents and home advisers. Diamond pins were awarded to the four winners.

Contract Awarded For New Church In Sleepy Hollow

Larkins Construction Co. of Kentfield, with a low bid of $56,290, has been awarded a contract for construction of the first phase of the proposed Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church.

Morris Scott, clerk of the church's board of session, said the Larkins bid was the lowest of five received in the office of Crawford and Banning, architects. The highest bid was $68,938.

Construction will include a sanctuary, five classrooms, a parlor, office and kitchen, on a three-acre site at 100 Tarry road, and is scheduled to begin with 30 days.

2 Controversial Items On San Rafael Agenda

Two controversial topics—a tennis and swim club and rezoning along Canal street—head the list of items for discussion tonight by the San Rafael City Council.

The meeting is set for 8 o'clock in the city hall.

The private tennis and swim club is proposed between Scenic avenue and Fifth avenue at J street. Planning commissioners have approved the project. Residents in the area object.

Rezoning along a portion of Canal street would permit taller apartment buildings but would require more open ground space for landscaping.

Other items on the agenda include:

1. Little League representatives seek financial aid in developing a new ball park off San Quentin road near the sanitation treatment plant.

2. Stop signs are recommended at the following intersections: California street at Alpine, Union street at Mission avenue, Park at Mission avenue.

3. Three new firemen are recommended for hiring. They are George L. Egan, Leon V. Castagnoli and Irving Levenson.

LAW IN ACTION

What Are Obligations To Guest Injured At Home?

Suppose a guest came to a party at your home, slipped and fell downstairs, and got hurt.

What is your legal duty to him?

Most likely none at all, so long as your stairs were in good shape, or you warned him of any unusual hazards. But he can seldom hold you to blame for dangers you don't know about.

Unlike "business invitees," guests accept your home and look out for themselves like the rest of your family, everyday risks and all.

True, some insurance policies pay some medical costs regardless of blame if guests get hurt in your home: But this does not mean that guests have a legal right to such protection.

To have a right to collect damages, as a rule, the injured guest must show that his host was negligent, and that he himself did not help bring on the mishap through his own carelessness.

But not all callers are "guests": Suppose you want to sell your house; you let a prospect in to look it over, and he falls over your little boy's fire engine. This is a different situation. He is a "business invitee" and as such he might have a right to damages which your guest would lack.

Workmen, postmen, and tradesmen are "invitees." You have a duty to make your property safe for them to use.

Watch out, too, for "naked licensees," like people who cut across your lawn or play in your backlot. Though you owe them little, you did let them enter: Warn them of any danger you know about.

You owe little to trespassers. Yet, you cannot set mantraps to harm them, and you have a legal duty to warn a trespasser whom you see walking into danger, say, an open well.

SMALLER KIDZERS—With the help of the younger set from Marysville, S. Sgt. Feliciano Guzman, paratrooper of the 101st Airborne Division who jumped into Beale Air Force base yesterday, sets up a field telephone. Part of a mock battle between U. S. forces and guerrillas from "Aggressorland," the parachute dropped landed 180 men and 16 armed jeeps before several thousand spectators.

HAFB Planes Drop Troops In Big Parachute Exercise

Story and Pictures
By CARLETON WILLIAMS
Lt. Wallen M. Summers of San Anselmo literally dropped in on the folks at home over the week end.

The 27-year-old paratrooper was one of the first of 180 men to bail out of seven C119 Flying Boxcars at Beale Air Force Base yesterday morning in the biggest mass jump in California's history.

Attached to the Army's 502nd Airborne Division, Summers was formerly with the famed "Screaming Eagle" division. He accompanied his former buddies from Ft. Campbell, Ky., to make the jump and at the same time visit his family.

The mock battle went off without a hitch and with only three minor casualties.

The first of the huge, olive drab chutes snapped open over Beale at 10:50 a.m. Within minutes, the men and 16 armed jeeps had hit the ground and were in action against a mythical enemy portrayed by units of the California National Guard.

Piloting the lead plane was Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore Jr., commander of the Air Force Reserve's 349th (Gold-Gate) Troop Carrier Wing from Hamilton Air Force Base, the outfit performing the lift for the operation.

LT. WALLEN M. SUMMERS
Hub paratrooper

The Kentucky troops, who had been airlifted to Hamilton on Friday, performed the spectacular demonstration before several thousand spectators and a score of newsmen who lined the rolling hills near Marysville.

The jump was scheduled at 7:30 a.m., but the lift planes were delayed by Marin County fog which failed to clear over Hamilton until nearly 9 o'clock.

"It was a good drop zone," Summers said, noting that there were no trees to hang up the men and chutes.

The youthful graduate of West Point, which he attended after graduating from the University of California at Davis with a degree in animal husbandry, said the jump itself is a pleasure. Yesterday was his thirty-first.

"I get airsick," he confided. "It's a real relief, to get out of the plane."

His wife, Patricia, and their 2-year-old daughter, Catherine Ann, live with his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jules Winkelman, at 104 the Alameda, San Anselmo.

The operation, the third performed in recent months by the forces of the Strategic Army Command, represented a theoretical battle in which the mythical country of Morabia surrendered to the United States and Aggressorland and was jointly occupied.

Aggressorland became hostile to the U. S. and ordered our troops to withdraw. The U. S. retaliated by dropping the men of the 101st against the Aggressorland guerilla forces, played by a reinforced rifle unit from the California National Guard.

The battle continued throughout yesterday until the 101st was declared the victor.

The actual drop was preceded by a single C119 which dropped 14 troopers to gauge

Madame Callas won a legal separation from Meneghini by mutual agreement Saturday and reliable sources said she may seek an American divorce in the next few months to make it permanent.

Street Extension On Corte Madera Agenda

Plans for extension of Tamal Vista boulevard northward through the Charles Paganini property near Highway 101 will be discussed by the Corte Madera Town Council tonight at a meeting starting at 7:30 o'clock in the town hall.

The state Public Utilities Commission announced last week it has authorized construction of a grade crossing where the road extension will pass over the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks on a right-of-way within the city of Larkspur.

A council committee will report tonight on its inspection of sites at north and south ends of town proposed for community directional signs.

Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow will ask the council to rescind an order requiring department heads to attend the first regular council meeting of the month. Brandow also will report on the status of off-site improvements in Unit 2A of Mariners Cove.

The council will consider planning commission recommendations that an unnamed street connecting the south end of Willow avenue with Chapman drive be named after former Councilman Charles A. Rowe and that another unnamed street by the old Circle drive-in be named Short street because it's short.

Inflation works in fits and starts. Now is the time to stop further inflation—before it gets under way again.

You can plan your future with confidence

ONLY WHEN INFLATION IS BEHIND BARS

Inflation isn't behind bars yet—even though prices have leveled off these last few months.

But you can help put inflation behind bars. And as you do, you will be helping to build the kind of America we all want, with a better standard of living for everyone.

The steady, continuous prosperity we all seek can come only from having a stable dollar, safeguarded against inflation.

With a stable dollar, the raises we get would actually be raises in buying power, not merely a means of meeting rising prices. And a stable dollar will give us all added confidence to save . . . to build . . . and to grow.

Right now there is a pressing need for more capital to keep pace with the demands of our growing nation. We need more schools, more homes, more highways. We need to replace obsolete factories, build more efficient machinery. All of this, in turn, creates more jobs and opportunities.

Where is the money coming from?

Much of this "growth money" must come from savings.

Your savings can help. And the economies government makes can also help by releasing more money for productive purposes. This way, we will be working to build a prosperous, confident America, freed of the fear of further inflation.

Stay on your guard against further inflation

1. One thing you can do is to let your senators and congressmen—now that they are home—know your point of view about cutting government spending. You may be surprised how much influence a personally written letter or visit will have. They may believe exactly as you do, but if they hear mainly from pressure groups who demand more services and projects, it is hard for them to hold the line against inflation.

2. You can take the same action with representatives of your state and local governments. They, too, may appreciate being reminded that you favor tightening up on expenditures.

3. Whenever you shop, check carefully on prices and values. That way, you're sure of getting your money's worth.

4. When you buy wisely, you will find it easier to build up a nest egg which will give your family that extra protection you want them to have. And as many of us add to our nest eggs, we will be providing the capital for more jobs and greater opportunity for all.

Such actions as these work for a growing America and a stable dollar, too.

Brought to you in the interest of every American who is concerned with preserving the value of the dollar.

HIT THE SILK — The first wave of 180 men pour out of tail gates of three C-119 Flying Boxcars yesterday over Beale Air Force Base in the largest mass parachute jump ever staged in the direction and velocity of the wind. The second man out on the pilot jump was Maj. Kenneth Came, a 34-year-old exchange officer from the British Parachute Regiment who has been with the 101st for four months of this year's tour of U. S. duty. The veteran of 12 years of paratrooping, who has seen service with the British Army in all parts of the world, was making his sixty-fifth jump.

The day's injuries consisted of two broken arms and an injured toe.

One of the casualties, Pfc. Don Martin of Los Angeles, was not aware that his arm was broken when he landed. He made himself comfortable and waited for help to come while his fellow troopers sped into action, calling to him to take it easy.

"I just got fouled up," he said as he lay on the "battlefield" smoking a cigarette and waiting for an approaching helicopter to haul him to sick bay.

Federal Suit Says Negroes Denied Ballot

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department today filed suit at Memphis, Tenn., challenging the validity of a "white primary" conducted last Aug. 1 in Fayette County, Tenn.

The action, brought against the Democratic Executive Committee of Fayette County under the Civil Rights Act of 1957, was the first court action dealing with alleged racial discrimination in an election.

Three previous cases filed to preserve Negro voting rights concerned alleged discrimination in voting registrations.

The Memphis suit asked for an injunction to prohibit the Fayette County Democratic organization from preventing Negro participation in primary elections for local office.

The complaint alleged that Democratic nominations in Fayette County are tantamount to election. No other party has offered a candidate for local office in Fayette County since reconstruction days.

The suit said the Fayette County Democratic Executive Committee is responsible for calling and conducting local primaries.

The government charged that about five weeks before the Aug. 1 primary, the committee adopted a resolution excluding Negroes from the primary and on election day placed a notice on each ballot box barring Negroes.

THIS IS NEWS, SAME AS WHEN MAN BITES DOG

No men bit dogs in Marin County today but we had something at least as unusual, and pleasanter.

The State of California returned some money to this county.

Paul R. Leake, state Board of Equalization member from this district, said Marin County is getting an early Christmas present in the form of $888.01 comprising a rebate of collections from administration of the Bradley-Burns Sales and Use Tax law.

"Taxpayers, accustomed to feeding the hand that bites them," said Leake with obvious anticipation of how the story would be led off, "should welcome this indication that government agencies can get results when they follow principles of economy and efficiency."

He was shot out the front door after doing considerable damage to the kitchen.

Park bears are particularly pesky at this time of the year, just before they go into hibernation, and seem to have only one thing in mind—food.

The practice is haul bears far back in the Sierra when they become troublemakers.

The convertibles ripped up by the bear were owned by Cornelius Kruijsdijk of Los Angeles and William F. Williams, disc jockey at Bakersfield radio station KBIS.

The sports car he ran in the ditch belonged to Mildred Chandler of Granada Hills.

Author's Big Dog Reported Stolen

Tiburon author Dean Jennings said today his giant German shepherd, Rocky—which Jennings thinks is the largest German shepherd in the Bay Area—is feared stolen.

Better Policing Of Marin Bars Can Now Be Expected

The assignment of a part time liquor control officer to Marin is a welcome development.

Heretofore, the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control has administered enforcement in Marin seemingly on a squeaking wheel basis. When there were complaints, an enforcement officer was dispatched to Marin from the San Francisco headquarters.

Since no one officer was regularly assigned to this area, there was no one officer familiar with Marin licensees or closely acquainted with local law enforcement officers.

When situations developed that needed the attention of an A.B.C. enforcement officer, local law enforcement officers weren't sure whom to turn to. They were not personally acquainted with an A.B.C. officer who knew what was-what in Marin.

Now an agent has been assigned to Marin for regular three-day-per-week duty. He is Ronald Harris, 33, a U. C. criminology graduate.

He will have a desk at the Sheriff's office. He will be in frequent contact with local law enforcement officers throughout the county. He will come to know liquor license holders, their establishments, and their reputations.

We expect that the day will soon come when we no longer see drunks bounced onto the sidewalk from saloons along San Rafael's main street.

And we will no longer hear obscenities echoing from the darkened doorways of bars in the shopping district, within earshot of women and children.

Any end to this sort of thing is overdue. We are glad the end is now in sight.

Those Aggressive Blackberries

It seems pretty safe to say that anyone who has a fence in Marin has at one time or another been troubled with blackberries. They are a most troublesome and persistent weed.

Their fruits are delicious, of course, and the uninitiated are apt to cherish these pernicious weeds on this account. But close acquaintance does not make the heart grow fonder. Blackberries are difficult to get rid of, prickly to handle and the very devil to uproot.

Their long, prickly vines are a menace to the comfort of anyone in their close vicinity. Sticky with tiny thorns, they are very disagreeable to come in contact with.

Every gardener who has ever had a blackberry problem has come to despise them. The tenacity and meanness of these shrubs can scarcely be matched.

At the same time, we must doff our hat to you, Mr. Blackberry. You are a tough old guy. You don't fight fair, it's true—what with all your prickles. But we must admit that you are well-equipped to survive the worst we can do to you. Reluctantly, we bow to you, formidable enemy. Besides, we love blackberry jelly.

BREATHES LIFE INTO BABY SISTER

A 10-year-old girl in St. Paul, Minn., breathed life into the tiny body of her 2-year-old sister, as their mother frantically called for help.

The baby, ill with a high fever and gasping for air, suddenly stopped breathing. In the midst of the crisis, the girl suddenly remembered a story her mother once told her.

It was about a child who saved the life of another by breathing into his mouth. Desperately hoping it would work, she forced air into her sister's mouth and revived her.

"I just had to do something," she said later. "After all, she's the only baby sister I've got."

This wonderful rescue shows the great talent children have for picking up pointers that can help them contribute to life. Nobody is in a better position to do this than parents.

Develop and channel these God-given talents in children. Give them a big purpose and you will help them lead a happy life on earth and for all eternity.

"Out of the mouth of infants and sucklings Thou hast perfected praise." (Matthew 21:16)

Impress all parents that they are Your co-workers, O Lord, in teaching their children to contribute to life.

Animals As Well As Men Suffer From Civilization-Bred Diseases

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

It isn't man alone who is heart-sickened by civilization. A study of autopsies at the Philadelphia Zoological Gardens over a 40-year period showed a 20-fold increase in arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, among both birds and mammals.

Sole support: In the 12th century some Russian tribesmen wore shoes with iron soles. They were so durable they were handed down from generation to generation.

Odd legislation: In New Hampshire there once was a law compelling every churchgoer to carry a gun.

The fuzz is familiar: Emperor Charlemagne ordered his soldiers to wear their beards outside their armor, so friends could better recognize each other from foes.

The world influenza epidemic of 1918-19 was one of the greatest plagues in history. It took 21 million lives. But in less than half a century after 1333, the black death killed an estimated 75 million persons in Europe and Asia.

The life expectancy of the average U.S. dollar bill is now about nine months.

Our quotable notables: "Show me a thoroughly satisfied man," said Thomas A. Edison, "and I will show you a failure."

The price of nonvegetarianism: Some 130 million food animals are slaughtered annually in the United States, but only 20 per cent are killed by methods approved by the American Humane Assn.

AMERICANS may be deeply disturbed about their own educational institutions, but they are admired by many abroad. This year more than 47,000 foreign students from 131 countries are attending U.S. colleges.

A California jeweler sends out this diplomatic note with statements on overdue bills: "A man who squeezes a dollar never squeezes his wife. In looking over your account, we get the idea your wife is not getting the attention she deserves."

JAPAN is one place where men still prefer to be followed rather than led by the fair sex. The scenic beauty of golf links in that country is enhanced by more than 37,000 pretty girl caddies.

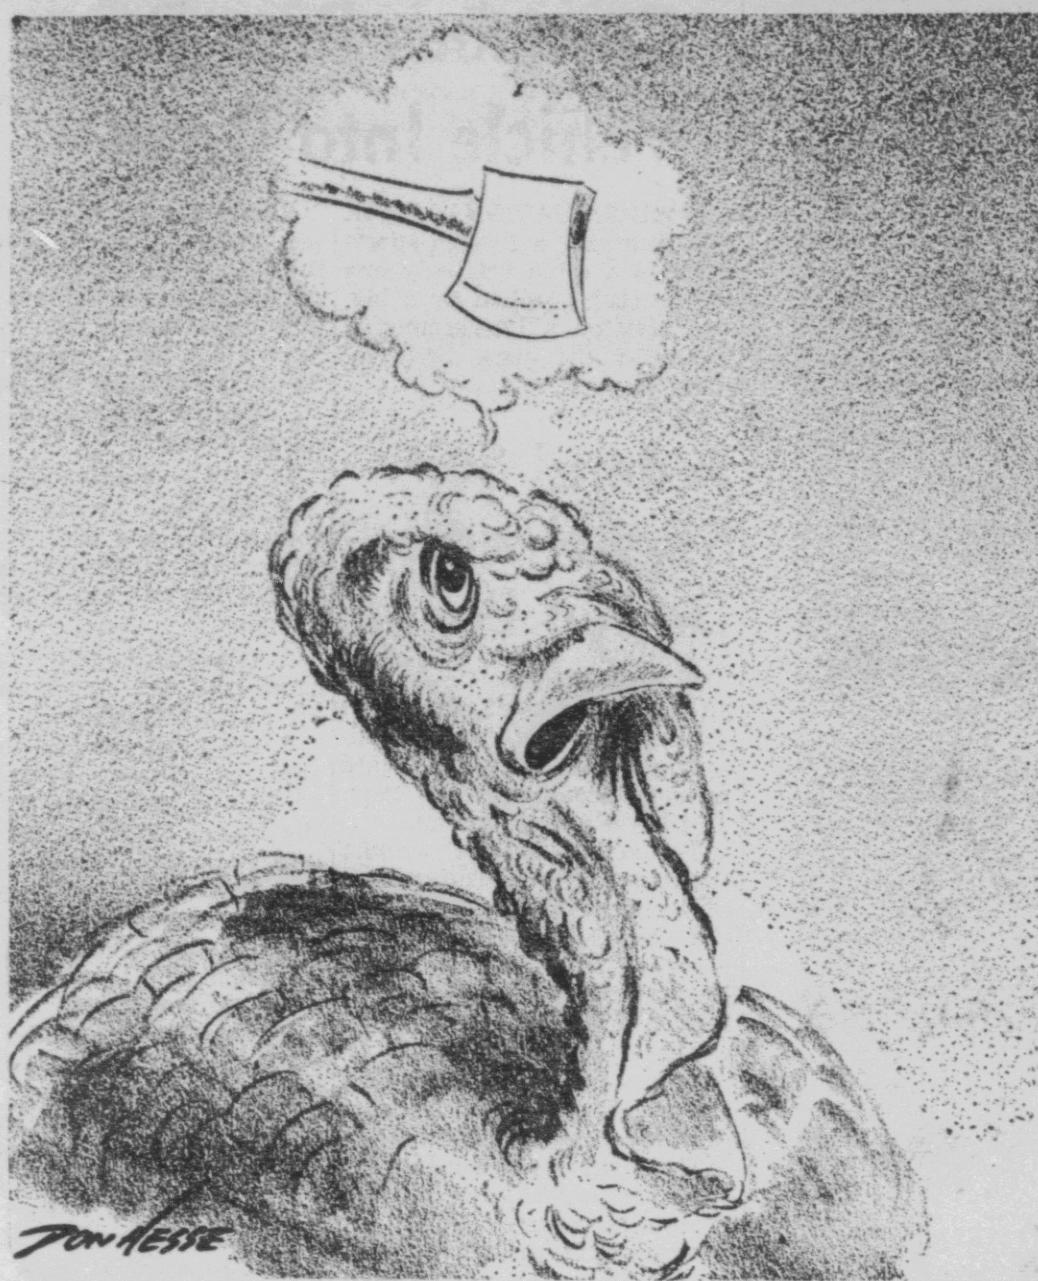

This is the time of year when the common cold is really common. From now until next April an average of 30 million Americans every day will suffer from sore throats.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Dr. Dufficy Is Truly Good

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I did not hear last Thursday's "Sounding Board," but I have read Carmel Booth's spiteful letter on the subject, a letter which reflects an embittered personality.

Evidently, Mrs. Booth is not acquainted with Dr. Dufficy. If she knew him, she would certainly realize that he is one of the truly good and decent people of our community.

Dr. Dufficy gives of himself — gives his time, his talent, his immense diognistical and professional knowledge and his innate love for his fellow man, with very little time or thought for himself.

If there were more people like Rafael Dufficy in Marin County, more real Christians in every sense of the word, perhaps there would be fewer 'crucifiers.'

Beware Of Spoiling Net Depot Site

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

On Tuesday, Nov. 17 at 3:30 p.m. the Board of Supervisors will open bids for a franchise or concessionaire operation of the Naval Net Depot Annex property.

I wish to point out that the hastily concocted idea of having a concessionaire put up the additional $21,000 toward purchase of this property, plus the commercial types of ventures that will be allowed under the terms of the franchise can only lead to the regrettable commercial exploitation and desecration of a beautiful piece of property.

The Independent-Journal welcomes contributions to "What Our Readers Say." Letters must be signed and must not exceed 300 words in length. The editor reserves the right to delete malicious material.

The emphasis seems to be to develop this property for the benefit of a special group, that is, boat owners. The boat launching, harbor facilities, and boat storage will completely spoil this property for fishing, swimming and picnicking. The Master Plan for the development of Richardson Bay plus many private ventures catering to boat owners will be more than adequate to meet their needs. The only proper use of this property is as a natural park where people may picnic, swim, and fish. Since it is inserted in the midst of a residential area its use should be of quiet type. There is no reason why this could not be unique if developed as a rendezvous the boat owners could come to by water.

I urge anyone who is interested in preserving this property in a natural state to attend the Board of Supervisors meeting on November 17 and make themselves heard.

Terra Linda Is Not Spanish

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I was very much amused by your paper's news item of Wednesday, Nov. 11, regarding the San Rafael Board of Education's action in naming the new high school "Terra Linda," because it has "the distinction of Spanish heritage and it describes the site."

Ignorance is bliss! Terra Linda is NOT Spanish but Portuguese! The Spanish equivalent is "tierra."

Statistics Aren't Dull Anymore When One Of Them Is Your Child

THE RECENTLY released annual statement by Marin General Hospital is chock full of statistics. Take for instance that vital one revealing that no fewer than 1,830 squalling infants began their worldly sojourn there during the period from June of '58 to June of '59.

Usually such an unadorned fact as that leaves me cold—even with the current world threat of over population looming on the horizon. Not so this one.

Why not? Simple logic. If my wife and I especially my wife — hadn't made a hasty trip to that gleaming edifice last October, that impressive number would have been a mere 1,829.

Other, perhaps less vital, statistics: The hospital laundered 1,177,000 pieces of linen, served 146,918 meals, conducted 50,957 lab tests and filled 32,067 prescriptions.

PLAYBOY, the slick girlie magazine that has come in for so much raised-eyebrow comment from Peninsula police chiefs of late, might have attracted even a greater rush of buyers had a recent wire story made its way into print.

Fortunately, the item didn't find its way into the I-J columns in its original form.

"Police departments in three other San Francisco Peninsula cities," it stated, "taking a cue from San Mateo Chief Martin McDonnell, asked newd (cq) dealers to remove the current issue . . . from their stands."

In case you didn't get to the newstand in time with your four-bits, the photo's in question are of bedroom scenes from the movie "Cry Tough," which now promises to have one of the biggest audiences since Boston banned "The Outlaw."

YOU MIGHT THINK that since Marin County's firemen have had no major forest or range fires to cope with this parched season that they've been catching up on unfinished pinochle games.

Not so. And a major reason why not comes right off the assembly lines of Detroit — the iron horse, no less. The mechanical monster may not be a hay burner, but other things about the inanimate beast are only too combustible. Just ask our redshirts.

No fewer than seven vehicle fires broke out in various Marin parts in the five day period recently — adding more proof that the safest place for life and limb is some where outside the family roadster.

WE ONLY HOPE we did not confound the firemen of Ross — or Fairfax, either — in this space last week.

Somewhat it happened that Chief A. T. Henrich was referred to as the fire chief of Fairfax. He is not any such thing. Everybody knows he presides in the town of Ross. Chief Charles Thornton, is in full command of firefighters in Fairfax.

Fortunately, firemen in both communities placed strong faith in their own judgments and refused to panic in the face of mild uncertainty as to who their leaders actually were.

HENRY MacARTHUR

Senate Committee Studying High Cost Of School Administration

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A great deal of interest is being evinced throughout the state in a study under way in Sacramento on the problem of how much administration is necessary for a good public educational system. The study is being conducted by the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Governmental Administration, headed by Senator Stanley Arnold (D-Susanville).

Arnold and his staff have put a lot of thought and planning into the inquiry and have conducted a state-wide survey to determine the amount of salaries paid to school superintendents.

SOME TIME AGO Senator Arnold announced he intended to get into the subject, following some preliminary investigation which revealed what he considered too large a percentage of state school money, and district school money as well, was going into administrative salaries, while teacher salaries, comparatively speaking, were too low.

The survey, Arnold said, included superintendents, assistant, associate and deputy superintendents, business managers and administrative assistants.

"These categories," he said "constitute the superintendent level in the public school system, even though titles vary between districts. Our survey did not include a multitude of other positions in the superintendent's office, nor did it include the principals and their administrative staffs."

IN ADDITION to salaries, Arnold brought out the fact that many superintendents receive other benefits, such as substantial automobile mileage. Some are furnished homes, rent-free.

"It all indicates a very high proportion of highly paid staff before we get to the teacher level," the Senator declared.

In Los Angeles county, the school superintendent receives an annual salary of $35,850, and is assisted by a staff of 1,594 non-teaching individuals 528 of whom receive salaries in excess of $12,000 annually. This is at the district level, and does not include any of the staffs of the individual schools, each of which is headed by a principal and a staff of administrative, non-teaching persons.

"We find," Arnold said, "the high level of administration forces and salaries found in the Los Angeles City Schools and some other districts difficult to reconcile with the fact that only 845 of the 1,630 districts surveyed have superintendents and in many of the 845 districts, the superintendent is in fact the principal and quite a few are teaching principals."

WHEN SENATOR Arnold completes the gathering of testimony on this subject, his committee will make recommendations to the 1961 state legislature, and probably some definite standards, or at least a leveling off of the salary structure for school superintendents and those who work for the superintendents, will be recommended for legislative action.

Pope Elevates Eight To Rank Of Cardinal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII today named eight new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church. They included two Americans, Archbishops Albert Gregory Meyer of Chicago and Aloysius J. Muench of Fargo, N. D.

The pope's action increased the College of Cardinals to 79 members, its largest size in the history of the church.

WAS EXPECTED

The elevation of Archbishop Meyer, 56, had been expected since he succeeded the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch as archbishop of Chicago just a year ago today. His archdiocese is the largest in the United States, having nearly two million members.

Both the new American cardinals are natives of Milwaukee, and Archbishop Meyer headed the archdiocese there for five years before going to Chicago.

Archbishop Muench, 70, has been representing the Vatican as papal nuncio to Germany since World War II but has retained his post as head of the North Dakota archdiocese.

DEC. 14 RITES

The eight new princes of the church will be elevated to their high office on Dec. 14 in a consistory in the Vatican's Consistorial Hall.

Those named with the two Americans were Joseph Heard, British dean of the Holy Roman Rota Tribunal; Agostino Bea, German Jesuit who was confessor of the late Pope Pius XII; Arcadio Larraona, Spanish secretary of the Vatican's Congregation of the Religious, and three Italians: Archbishop Gustavo Testa, 73, apostolic nuncio to Switzerland; Archbishop Paolo Marella, 64, apostolic

Volcano Puts On Spectacular Show In Hawaii

HILLO, Hawaii (UP) — A spectacular volcanic eruption in Kilauea Iki Crater provided Hawaii today with its biggest tourist attraction in recent years.

Lava was still flowing freely from the wall of Kilauea Crater on the Mountain of Maunaloa last night, forming a lake of red, glowing molten rock inside the crater.

SEE NO DANGER

Volcanologists here expected no danger of an overflow because the crater is 650 feet deep and a quarter mile wide. The eruptions, which began at 8:09 p.m. Saturday after seven sharp earthquakes, were expected to continue for several more days at least.

The Kilauea Crater is located just below the famous Maunaloa Crater, 35 miles from Hilo and 200 miles south of Honolulu.

Thousands of tourists and residents of the island have been crowding into Hawaii National Park to view the phenomenon since Saturday night.

PUTTING ON SHOW

Five of a series of seven fountains from the eruption area had died by dawn yesterday and by nightfall there was only one left. But the single fountain was still putting on a big show yesterday.

Volcano observatory seismologist Jerry Eaton said the single fountain could increase its flow, or other eruptions could break out along the crater wall.

The last eruption in the Kilauea Iki fissure of the crater came in 1868.

Cream cheese is too soft to grate but it can be sieved through a coarse wire strainer to make an intriguing looking garnish.

Herter: Russ Know Futility Of Conflict

NEW YORK (UP) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said today the West is trying to "break new ground" in search of ways to compete economically with communism and prevent an armed conflict that would mean the death of civilization.

Herter said he believes the Soviet leaders share with the free world the belief that the course of world events must be changed soon to avoid the "mutual suicide" of a general nuclear war.

He also expressed hope that better cold war communications between East and West may be developing. Herter said it will take courage and strength on the part of the American people and their free world allies to build a new relationship with the Communists.

In a major foreign policy address before the National Foreign Trade Council in New York, Herter said of East-West relations: "I believe that on certain fundamentals we can find a common language because we have a common interest."

But he warned that the free world still faces a revolutionary movement dedicated to the eventual supremacy of communism throughout the world. He said the competition in peace "will take courage of a high order and strong nerves over a long time."

Herter said there were "few tangible results" from the U. S. visit of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev except that the element of duress over Berlin "has been submerged."

"Nothing could be more fatal," he told the trade leaders, "than to confuse relaxation of tensions with relaxation of ourselves, and one of the most serious dangers ahead is that people will be tempted to do exactly that."

Missing Judge's Wife Still Holds Hope He'll Return

CHICAGO (UP) — Three weeks ago, Federal Judge W. Lynn Parkinson left his chambers at the U.S. Court of Appeals Building after telling friends he was going to get a birthday present for his wife.

That was on Oct. 26. The distinguished Hoosier jurist has not been seen since.

Today, his wife, Elsie Ruth, observed her birthday. She is still waiting for the judge.

Friends said Mrs. Parkinson was clinging to hope her husband would return and is bolstered in her belief by a "deep spiritual faith."

Mrs. Parkinson has refused to leave her six-room apartment since the judge vanished.

Friends near her said she has been getting occasional breaths of fresh air by opening the windows and a fire escape door.

However, she will leave the apartment at the end of November to live with her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Ann South-

Kansas Family Of 4 Slain In Mystery

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — In a farm home far off the beaten path of this vast wheat area four members of a respected, well-to-do family were murdered over the weekend.

Herbert Clutter, 48; his wife, Bonnie, 45, their daughter, Nancy Mae, 16, and son Kenyon, 15, were bound hand and foot and gagged. All were shot in the head. Clutter's throat was slashed.

KILLED BY GUN

The victims were slain by a shotgun. Neither the gun nor the weapon with which Clutter's throat was cut have been found.

Nothing in the house was in disarray. No valuables appeared to be missing. Money which Nancy had placed in an envelope for church lay on her bedroom dresser beside a diamond ring.

The coroner, Dr. Robert Fenton, said Mrs. Clutter and Nancy apparently were not molested sexually. He placed the time of death between 11 p.m. Saturday and 2 a.m. yesterday.

DISCOVER SLAYINGS

The Clutters gave a ride each Sunday to two of Nancy's school mates. The girls, Mary Ewalt and Susan Kidwell, stumbled on the killings when they were driven to the Clutter home.

Clutter was a founder of the Kansas Assn. of Wheat Growers. He was a past president of the National Wheat Growers Assn., president of the Garden City Equity Exchange and a director of the Consumers Cooperative. President Eisenhower appointed him in 1954 to the Federal Farm Credit Board. Clutter declined reappointment two years later.

Nancy and Kenyon attended high school in Holcomb, a village of 270 population a mile from their home. Both were honor students. Nancy last week won the school's good citizenship award.

The family apparently had been ready to retire when they were attacked.

Deadline Near In Registration For Valley School Vote

San Geronimo Valley residents who have not yet registered or who failed to vote in the last general election a year ago must register by Wednesday in order to be able to vote in the Jan. 12 election on the school tax rate.

According to state law, registration for an election must close 54 days before the date of the election.

In the January election, the voters will decide whether to continue the present $2 tax rate for the Lagunitas elementary school district for a five-year period. If the measure fails to pass, the tax will revert to the minimum rate of 90 cents set by the state.

San Geronimo Valley residents may register locally at the following places, as well as at the court house in San Rafael: Woodacre, This 'n That Variety store; Forest Knolls, post office; Lagunitas, grocery store.

United Nations figures show that the Irish consume an average of 3,150 calories per person a day, more than any other country, although the Danes are not far behind with 3,500 calories.

Big Game Saturday Stanford Rated The Slim Favorite

STANFORD (AP)—A full house is expected again Saturday for the 63nd Big Game between California and Stanford but this time the teams will feel somewhat like a minister on Easter. There will be a lot of persons present they haven't been seeing regularly.

Both Cal and Stanford have lost more times than they have won this season and crowds have been smaller than usual. Cal has a 1-8 record and Stanford is 3-6.

Stanford, which outscored Oregon State 39-22 Saturday, rates as a slight favorite because of quarterback Dick Norman, the nation's leading passer.

Cal, which lost 20-0 to Washington's Huskies Saturday, leads Stanford 26-25 in games. There have been 10 ties.

There are all kinds of psychology working in a tilt like this one, and if nothing else, Cal's Coach Pete Elliott has that edge over Stanford Coach Jack Curtice.

LOSINGEST TEAM?
Elliott can ask his weary warriors:

Do you want to be known as the losingest California team of all time?

The 1957 Bears lost nine games, but California has never lost nine in a row. They could do it by losing Saturday.

The Indians rarely show much in the way of defense and their attack was in high gear at Corvallis. With Norman completing 14 of 26 passes, Stanford moved 237 yards through the air and 178 on the ground. The rushing came mostly from Norman and Skip Face.

Face, a busy man at fullback, scored 27 points on three touchdowns, a field goal, four conversion kicks and a two-point conversion run.

Playing before 10,898, the Indians appeared a different team from the squad that was clobbered by UCLA the week before.

At Berkeley, 38,800 watched the Bears struggle gamely with the apparently Rose Bowl-bound Huskies. Washington did not score until the final minute of the first half.

A dozen major penalties, costing the northerners 163 yards, helped Cal stay in the game until the final period. In the fourth quarter, the period Huskie Coach Jim Owens says "always decides the issue," Washington banged over two more touchdowns.

Cal showed a hard-working defense but practically no offense. The defeat closed the first home season since 1897 that California was unable to win a single game at Berkeley. Owens wouldn't hazard a guess on the outcome of the Big Game. "Cal is tougher defensively," he said, "but Stanford has the passing and that could decide it."

MARIN MEETING

Western Fish Needs Told At Hearing

Western state officials and commercial and sports fishermen told two California congressmen yesterday the federal government should increase its basic research on West Coast salmon.

They also stressed need for greater coordination among California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho on exchange of management and marketing information concerning salmon, steelhead and other migratory fish.

About 100 officials and fishermen attended the conference conducted at the Marin Rod and Gun Club in San Rafael by Reps. Clement W. Miller, Corte Madera, and Harold T. Johnson, Democrats, to gather information for the guidance of Congress in considering fishing legislation.

California Assemblyman Paul J. Lunardi (D-Roseville), a member of the Assembly Fish and Game Committee, joined Miller and Johnson in conducting the conference.

William E. Warne, director of the California Fish and Game Department, presented the speakers at the session. They stressed these other points:

INCREASE PERSONNEL
Increase trained personnel in federal and state fishing agencies . . . plan better on rehabilitation of depleted fishing resources . . . enlarge propagation programs . . . build more artificial spawning channels on the rivers . . . provide more nearly accurate hatching forecasts.

In addition to federal and state authorities from California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho, speakers included:

Ray E. Welsh of Ft. Bragg, president of Salmon Unlimited; Charles H. Bohrmann of Gridley, representing Associated Sportsmen of California; E. A. Davisson, Oakland, Central California Trollers Assn.; George D. Defani, Carmichael, executive secretary, California Wildlife Federation, and John Gilchrist, manager, Northern California Seafood Institute.

Eastern Loop Knotted Up; Colts Close In On 49ers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fleet Bobby Mitchell, an undersized Jimmy Brown, has emerged from the shadow of his more illustrious Cleveland teammate while pulling the Browns into a tie for first place in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

With the 225-pound Brown stymied, the 180-pound Mitchell took over yesterday and scored three touchdowns as Cleveland overwhelmed the Washington Redskins 31-17 for a 6-2 record.

Mitchell, 23, who is in his second year as a pro, scored Cleveland's first TD by scampering 90 yards to pay dirt, then tacked on runs of 5 and 24 yards for additional tallies as he amassed 232 on the ground.

Mitchell, using rapier-like thrusts to open the defenses where Brown's bulling rushes failed, averaged 16.6 yards a try to come within five yards of Brown's single-game NFL record for total yardage rushing.

Cleveland next meets the Pittsburgh Steelers who dumped New York into a tie for the top spot by beating the Giants 14-9 on Bobby Layne's touchdown pass with 1:29 left to play.

S.F. LEAD CUT
In the Western Division, the San Francisco 49ers had their lead cut to one game when the Chicago Bears threw up a brilliant defense for a 14-3 victory.

Madrid — Fred Galiana, 135½, Spain knocked out Robert Dimartino, 134½, Tunisia, 8.

Los Angeles — Ray Greco, 152, Los Angeles outpointed Karl Heinz Guder, 156½, Essen, Germany, 10.
Berlin — Gustav Scholz, 159½, West Berlin knocked out Peter Mueller, 155½, Cologne, 1 (European middleweight title).

The second-place Baltimore Colts edged Green Bay 28-24 on Johnny Unitas three touchdown tosses.

The 49ers (6-2) and Colts (5-3), defending NFL champions, clash at Baltimore next Sunday in a showdown contest.

In other games Philadelphia knocked off the Chicago Cardinals 27-17 and Detroit upended Los Angeles 23-17.

Despite Mitchell's fancy footwork, it took a 35-yard field goal by Lou Groza at the start of the second half to put the Browns in front to stay. Dick James and Johnny Olszewski, who set a club record with 190 yards gained rushing, gave Washington (3-5) a 14-14 halftime deadlock with scoring dashes of 4 and 19 yards, respectively.

Layne's second touchdown throw, 46 yards to Tom Tracy, ended New York's victory string at five games. The Giant offense, led by third-string quarterback Don Heinrich due to injuries to Charlie Conerly and George Shaw, couldn't get going against a tough Steeler (3-4-1) defense. For the second week in succession, Pat Summerall accounted for all the Giant scoring with 21, 27 and 29-yard field goals.

5 Interceptions Ruin 49ers; Face Colts Next

By JACK HANLEY

I-J Sports Correspondent

CHICAGO—Red Hickey declared today that while the 49ers "feel very badly" about the 14-3 loss to the Chicago Bears, "we are not so far down in the dumps that it will bother us."

Hickey obviously was displeased at Y. A. Tittle's passing in the Bear game and showed it by yanking him early in the first quarter and sending John Brodie to work.

"But Tittle will start next Sunday in Baltimore against the Colts," said Hickey.

He wasn't too pleased either with the passes of Brodie who made his first game appearance, except for one play in the closing seconds of the Detroit Lion game a couple of weeks ago in Kezar Stadium.

"It was a long and most frustrating day during which we didn't block, didn't tackle and didn't catch the ball," was the way Hickey summed up the second defeat by the NFL Western Division league leaders in eight starts this season. The last time the 49ers failed to score a TD was a year ago in Kezar when the Los Angeles Rams whipped them 33-3.

POOR PASSING
Tittle had one of his worst passing days. Brodie was a little, but not much, better. The Bears intercepted five of their passes—two of Tittle's and three of Brodie's.

"We were throwing to the wrong men," said Hickey, "and you can't win games doing that or failing to score when numerous opportunities are presented to you such as they were to us by those Bear fumbles."

The interceptions killed four excellent 49er scoring opportunities when they were within comfortable TD distance inside the Bear 30 on first down. Three of those scoring chances came on 49er recoveries of Bear fumbles.

Tommy Davis, whose soaring punts have been near perfect in all previous games, even had a bad day. A couple of his boots went only 30 yards this nippy Sunday afternoon in Wrigley Field before a crowd of 44,406 that was well bundled against the mid-30 temperature.

Davis, however, contributed the only 49er marker of the day, a 42-yard field goal just as the first half was coming to a close.

TD NULLIFIED

A moment before Davis' three-pointer J. D. Smith romped 25 yards to a touchdown that would have tied the score at 7-7. However, a clipping penalty was called on Hugh McElhenny nullified the play.

While Bill George, Joe Fortunato, Bill Leggett and others were the defensive stars for the Bears, it was Johnny Morris, a Santa Barbara State College boy, who furnished their big offensive punch.

Morris took the opening kickoff six yards deep in his own end zone—cleared of snow just before the game—and raced 58 yards to the 49er side of the midfield stripe. In 12 plays the Bears scored, Rick Casares diving over from the one yard line.

Five minutes later the second half started. Morris took a screen pass from Ed Brown and sped 51 yards for the second Bear TD. He didn't wait for three-man interference. He dashed right through it, slipped by Jerry Mertens and Matt Hazeltine with hip swivels, and crossed the goal line with nobody near him.

FINAL TALLY

John Aveni then added his second PAT and, as things developed, that was to be the last score in the rugged game.

Excluding those runs by Morris and one by Brown for 48 yards to the five-yard line in the second quarter, the 49er defense was fine. It was matchless in a goal line stand after

Don't Panic; 49ers Still Look Like Champs, May Prove It Against Colts

Don't press the panic button. The San Francisco 49ers still look like champs to me.

The Chicago Bears came up a 14 to 3 winner in yesterday's bruising contest in the Windy City but this was no demoralizing defeat.

For the first time this year Coach Red Hickey was out-guessed by his opposition and could not get his corrections in operation soon enough to get an offense going. The 49ers were definitely "out-defended," but only by a small margin.

And to be out-snookered by such a combination as "Papa Bear" George Halas and Clark Shaughnessy is no disgrace. Halas has forgotten more football than half of today's coaches can remember. And Shaughnessy was the guy who started the football world with his Stanford Frank Albert version of the T-formation almost two decades ago.

The "stunting" of the Bear line was a beautiful thing to watch. The quick change of defensive positions just before the ball is snapped can cause confusion in the execution of offensive line blocking. And the change comes too late for the attacking quarterback to change his play pattern with an "audible" at the last moment.

THE BEARS gave very little yardage through the middle. If any 49er did poke his nose past the defensive line, there was big Bill George to mash him down from his defensive line-backer position.

Where the 49ers have sent Joe Perry and J. D. Smith booming around the ends in past games, the Bears just weren't having any. Ted Connolly and Bruce Bosley were laying some fine blocks, but after they were down the ball carrier was a wide open sitting duck for the fast recovering Bear secondary.

There is no question that the removal from the game of quarterback Y. A. Tittle so early in the first quarter was a definite factor in the 49ers being shut out in the touchdown department for the first time this year. Loss of a great leader often causes consternation, if not panic, and the 49ers are to be commended for rallying behind John Brodie and making a game of it.

JUST TWO weeks ago we levelled our only real criticism of Coach Hickey's judgment this year. With a fat lead over the Detroit Lions, the redhead kept Tittle in as quarterback until the very last play of the game. We felt Brodie should have been in for the experience as well as to save YAT from unnecessary lumps. That lack of experience came back to haunt the 49er offense as Brodie was anything but sharp in his passing and play calling. Potentially, John Brodie is one of the greatest quarter-

Giants Win Finale — 8 Straight

Redwood Cruises Past Marin Catholic, 35-12

By GLENN BECKER

Redwood's Giants, football champions of the new Marin County Athletic League, completed the first undefeated, untied season in Marin since San Rafael did it in 1956, Saturday afternoon by cruising past Marin Catholic, 35-12, at Kentfield.

In winning their finale, the Redwooders took advantage of numerous breaks, including two blocked punts, to overcome a stubborn Wildcat line. They broke the game open in the wild final quarter by scoring three touchdowns.

Redwood started the touchdown parade early in the first period when Sam Williams tallied the first of his two TDs on a one-yard plunge. The score was set up by a fantastic diving catch by Jeff Skinner of a

Long Runs Highlight Tam's 31-0 Triumph Over Pirates

By DICK POWERS

Ared-hot third quarter, sparked by the sensational running of John Harris and Ray Edwards, gave the Tamalpais Indians a 31-0 triumph over Drake Saturday night at Kentfield in the final game of the first Marin County Athletic League season.

It was the ninth annual Drake-Tamalpais "Big Game" with the Mill Valley preps holding an edge with six victories, two losses and one tie.

The victory gave the Indians a second place tie with the Novato Hornets, while the Pirates were winless for their league season.

The final MCAL standings were:

	W	L	PCT.
Redwood	5	0	1.000
Tamalpais	3	2	.600
Novato	3	2	.600
San Rafael	2	3	.400
Marin Catholic	2	3	.400
Drake	0	5	.000

The Pirates, who dropped their 20th straight against the Indians Saturday, looked like they might contain Tam's speedy backfield, holding them to a lone six-pointer during the first half.

That came with seconds remaining in the first quarter, when quarterback Larry "Tex" Hamilton handed off to John Edwards, who raced off tackle for 81 yards.

Tam started the second half with a bang as, with two minutes gone, Edwards raced over center for 62 yards and a 12-0 margin.

Drake's next set of plays was the Pirates' biggest penetration of the night, when they moved the ball to Tam's 15-yard line. But on a third and fourth down two straight passes by quarterback Sam Johnson fell incomplete, giving the ball back to the Indians.

Hamilton again took the controls, handing off to Harris, and he raced 85 yards downfield to paydirt.

EDWARDS RAMBLES
Closing the end of the third quarter Edwards rambled 80 yards into touchdown territory. Norm Kreuter followed with the conversion and the Indians held a 25-0 lead going into the final period of play.

Drake then started a drive of its own, but soon ran out of downs and had to punt.

First plays after taking over the pigskin seemed to be Tam's secret word, as Pat Morgan carried the ball for the first time of the night, rambling 36 yards with the mail for the final score.

"After seeing the first half I thought this game might end up like last week's against Redwood," commented Coach Jim Hanretty of Tam. He went on to say, "We only suited up 22 boys for the game and I thought our injuries might cost us our last game of the year."

He also commented on the defensive work of Ed Collins—who intercepted two Drake passes, and Jerry Williams, who looked good in the line. Star guard Bob Hector was injured during the first part of the game, and was only used on defense. Hanretty also was proud of the offensive work of Hamilton, Harris and Edwards.

Harris, starting his first game this season as a back, rambled for two long touchdowns, giving him 183 net yards for the night in six carries, while Edwards picked up 147 yards in eight tries. As a team Tam rolled up a whopping 435 yards — 302 more than Drake.

SENIOR PLAYERS

This was the final game for 11 Drake seniors in Tom Sannar, Douglas Bock, John Mufford, Dave Christian, Jim Shepherd, John Ziegler, Paul White, Frank Divita, Alden Sievers, Warren Miller and Bob Beck. Fifteen seniors played their final game for the Indians — Russ Cook, Ray Beauchamp, John Harris, Ray Edwards, Dennis Reynolds, Dave Broome, Bob Hector, Maurice Roan, Dave Pappenhausen, Jerry Williams, Harry Hersh, Mario Rotnicki, Scott Alexander, El Cartio Barnes and John Morgan.

Drake's junior varsity knocked off the Indians' jayvees 25-13 in the opener.

Scoring by quarters:
Tamalpais . . . 6 0 19 6—31
Drake . . . 0 0 0 0—0
Tam Scoring: Harris (2), 85-yard run, 81-yard run; Edwards (2), 80-yard run, 63-yard run; Morgan, 36-yard run. PAT — Norm Kreuter, placement.

Casper Breezes To Easy Win In Lafayette Open

LAFAYETTE, La. (P)—Billy Casper made a show of his field in the $15,000 Lafayette Golf Tournament. And as one of his nearest rivals put it, "The rest of us were just shooting for second place."

Casper, a 26-year-old stylist who takes a good deal of ribbing about his waistline, blasted par again with a 69 yesterday to take the $2,000 first-place check. His four-round total of 69-64-71-69—273 was four strokes better than runnerup George Bayer, the distance hitter from Gleneagles, Ill.

The paycheck brought his earnings to $33,000 for the year, and he'll be shooting for another jackpot at Mobile, Ala., in the Sertoma Open Thursday.

Jim Ferree of Crystal River, Fla., and old pro Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., tied for third with 278 while bridegroom Gay Brewer Jr., Crystal River, trailed with 281.

Hearing Slated On Purchase Of Navy Land

A public hearing on Marin County's opportunity to buy 19 acres of land declared surplus from the Tiburon Naval Net Depot annex will be held at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow before the Marin County Board of Supervisors with brightened prospects for outright purchase.

The crucial vote of Supervisor James A. Marshall, which went against use of $21,000 from unappropriated reserve when the matter was last before the supervisors, is expected on the next vote to switch over to those of Supervisors Vera Schultz, Walter R. Castro and William Gnos.

ALONE IN OPPOSITION

That would leave Supervisor William D. Fusselman solitary in his seemingly adamant position against such an appropriation.

Considerable pressure has built up for acquisition of the property for recreational purposes, at a total cost of $41,000 in accordance with the government's decision to let Marin have it for half its $82,000 assessed valuation. The county has on hand $20,000 budgeted for land acquisition.

Much opposition has come from nearby residents who oppose an alternative plan of letting a concession to someone willing to put up the necessary $21,000 required to clinch the deal.

DOUBT ON PROFIT

Many have expressed opposition to anything approaching a "Coney Island" atmosphere there, while additionally there has been doubt than a concessionaire could make the property pay unless virtually denying public access without admission charge.

Half an hour before this public hearing will come consideration of the Novato airport lease, put over from last week.

At 3 p.m. the supervisors will receive a letter from Donald A. Jensen, county administrator, reporting on committee conference with William Q. Wright Jr. who owns the airport land.

The scheme is understood to call for additional purchases year by year to a total acquisition of 50 acres. Details of improvement will be submitted and the supervisors will take into consideration that no outlays during the present year are contemplated other than from aviation gas funds.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, risking another Soviet protest, will leave a Finnish U.N. official in rebel-ridden Laos as his personal representative.

Cardinal Recovers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, gave ample evidence over the weekend that his illness Saturday night was only temporary.

At a banquet Saturday night, the cardinal suddenly felt faint. Worried church officials summoned a doctor, ambulance and a respirator. But Cardinal Cushing waved them away and a few minutes later delivered a 45-minute speech to 6,000 delegates to the National Conference of Catholic Youth. He blamed the heat in Municipal Auditorium and exhaustion for his illness.

Yesterday the cardinal held a news conference and later delivered a sermon to 12,000 persons gathered for communion in the auditorium.

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—The strike of stereotypers against Portland's two largest newspapers today moved into its seventh day with little hope of a quick settlement.

The Oregonian and Oregon Journal, which have combined to publish a joint newspaper since the stereotypers walked out last Tuesday, boosted circulation over the 500,000 mark with a 40-page edition yesterday. This was near the total separate Sunday circulation of the two papers.

COURTLAND, Va. (AP)—From the pulpit of a small country church, an Irish diplomat has expressed deep sorrow for the death of a maid hit by his son's automobile.

John J. Hearne, Irish ambassador to the United States, told an overflow congregation of more than 500 at Zion A.M.E. church yesterday his government "will do everything in its power" to help the family of Jossie Hamlin, 56. She was struck down on a Washington street last week by an auto driven by Hearne's son, David, 21.

The young man, who claimed diplomatic immunity, said he hit Mrs. Hamlin, a widow, while trying to avoid another pedestrian.

SAN DIEGO (UP)—The bathyscaph Trieste plunged to a record undersea depth of 18,600 feet off Guam, the naval electronic laboratory reported today.

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—Old rebel Walter G. Williams celebrated his 117th birthday a day late yesterday by eating spare ribs and cake while a band played "Dixie" and "Old Soldiers Never Die."

But Williams was so weak he could not get out of bed to greet the many friends and relatives who came to see him.

His daughter, Mrs. Willie Mae Bowles, with whom he lives, said he was excited by the celebration. He wore a new red flannel shirt and nibbled on a barbecued sparerib and a piece of cake.

Body Unidentified

TRUCKEE (UP)—California authorities sought today to identify a bullet-scarred body recovered from the depths of Donner Lake by a teen-age skindiver.

Nevada County Coroner Alvah Hooper said the body was that of a muscular, white male. He estimated the remains had been in the water at least two years.

Sheriff's deputies said the victim had been shot in the chest, trussed up and weighted, then dropped into the lake.

Phil Buttolph, a 17-year-old high school student from Reno, Nev., discovered the body yesterday.

TV Probe To Continue

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Federal Communications Commission expects to spend more than a year on its forthcoming investigation of the quiz show scandal and other offensive television practices.

Chairman John C. Doerfer told United Press International he doubted the committee would have any legislative recommendations drawn up in time for the next session of Congress.

However, he said, this did not mean the commission would not take prompt action if the investigation turned up evidence of violations of existing laws.

TAM TOPPLES DRAKE

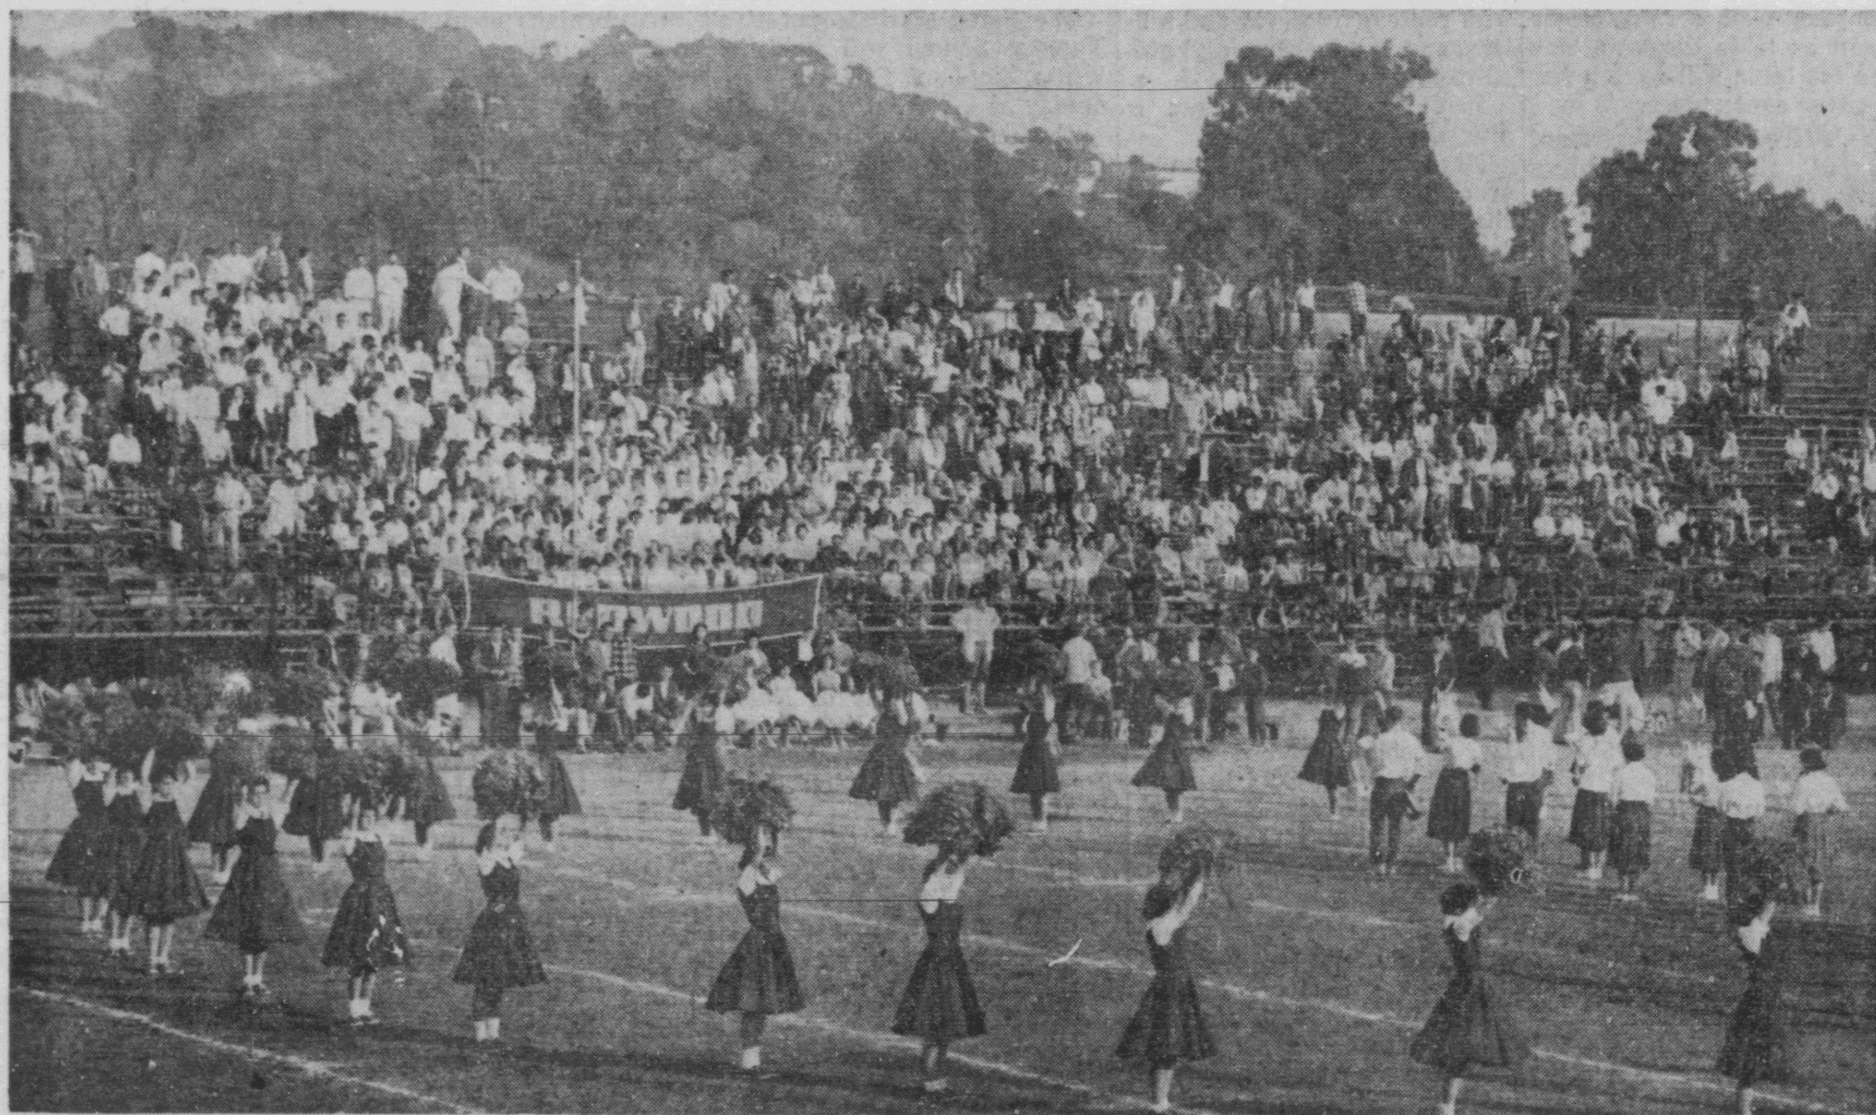

Tamalpais Indians rolled to a 31-0 victory over Drake Saturday night at Kentfield. This first quarter action shows Drake's Lou Ramsey (65) attempting to snag a pass, but it fell incomplete. Tam's Ed Collins moves in on play. (Tam-Drake game photos by Jim Kean)

PIRATE NAILED — Drake fullback Scott Moriarity (head down) plunges for short gain before being hauled down by Russell Cook. Tam's defense completely bottled up the winless Pirates all night while the Indians rolled up more than 400 yards, scoring on five long runs.

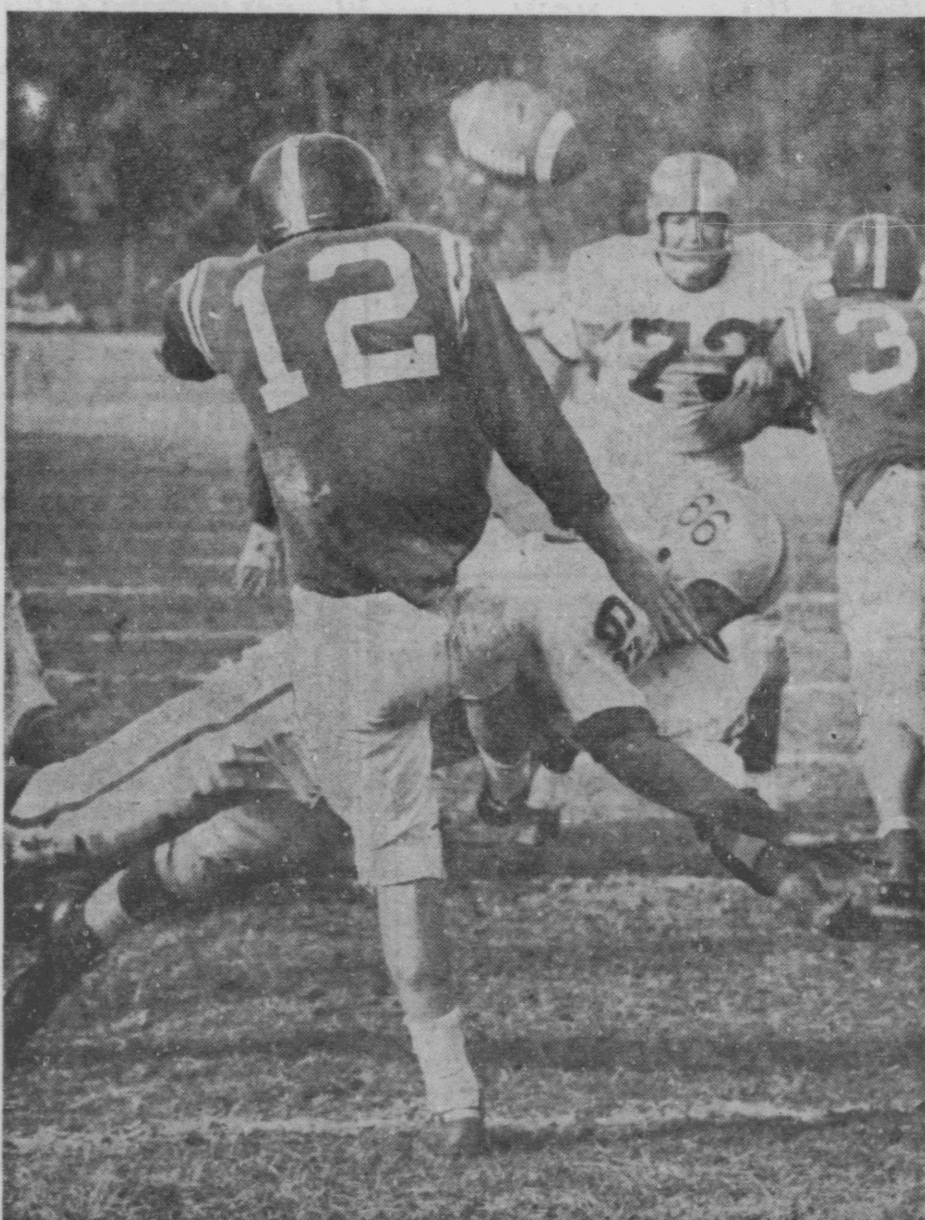

HAPPY QUEEN — The ride in an open convertible around the Kentfield gridiron at halftime of Saturday night's game was a happy one for Virginia Dazey, Tam's Homecoming Queen who ruled over the festivities. The Tam victory was a fitting climax to her reign as queen.

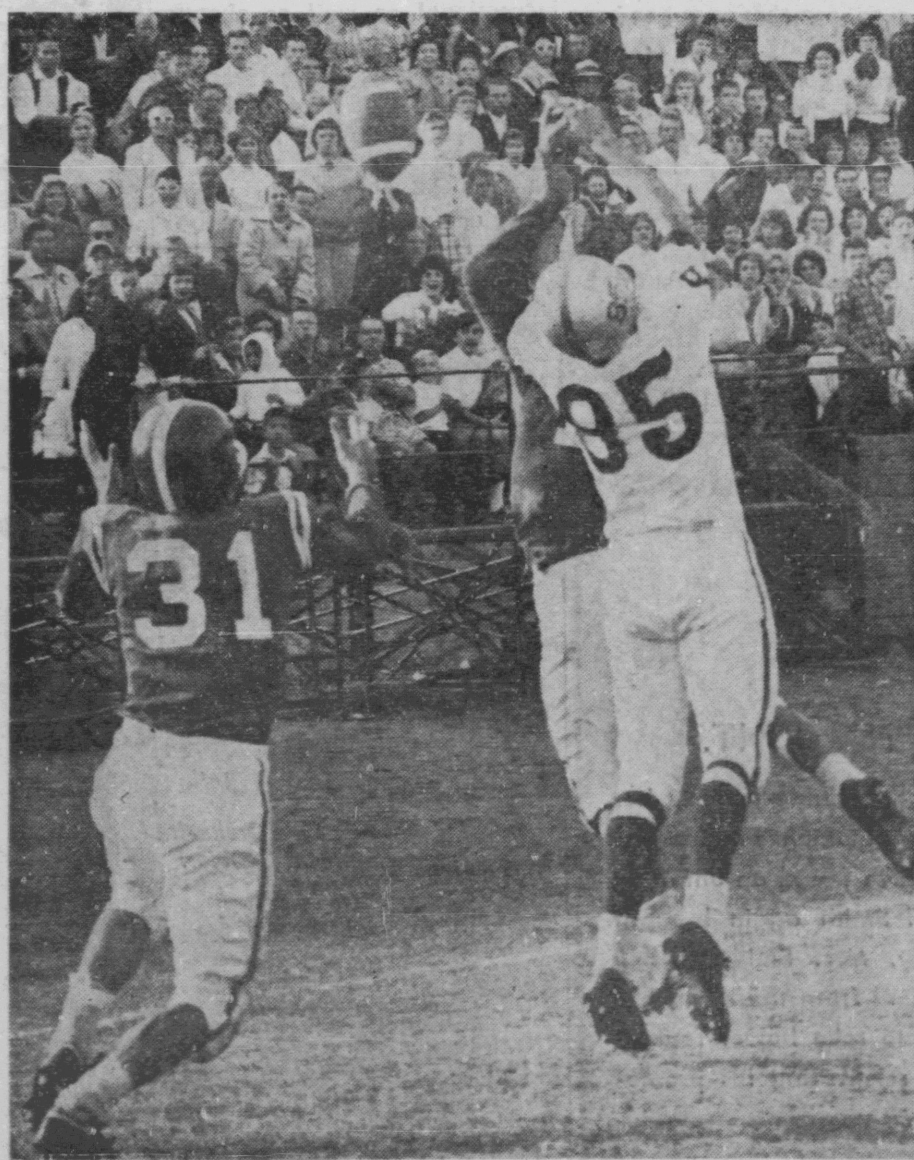

HAPPY DAYS FOR REDWOOD'S CHAMPIONS

Redwood High's song-leaders and band salute their undefeated Giants at halftime of Saturday's final game in which they downed Marin Catholic, 35-12. In winning their eighth game, the Giants became the first Marin team with a perfect record since San Rafael did it in 1956. (Redwood-Marin Catholic photos by Dick Steinheimer)

CLOSE CALL — Marin Catholic quarterback Ron Blum (12) barely gets punt away in second quarter. Making diving attempt in this action is Redwood's Rick Weil (66), who blocked two of Blum's punts later in the game.

INTERCEPTION — Marin Catholic rooters, in background, had opportunity to cheer on this pass play as Wildcat back Bob McMullen (31) intercepted it a split second later. The aerial was intended for Rich Brear (85) who had it batted out of his hands by unidentified Marin player.

night's game against San Rafael. The Hornets scored three plays later and went on to gain a 13-7 triumph. (Novato-San Rafael game photos by Jim Kean)

VICTORY RIDE — Coach Marlin Olsen of Novato beams happily as his Hornets carry him off field after the victory. Novato, surprise team in the Marin County Athletic League, had six victories and two defeats this season and tied Tamalpais for second place in final MCAL standings.

BULLDOG SCORE — Halfback Billy Roberts, (22), star for San Rafael, dashes into end zone for extra point in fourth quarter of season's final game. On the preceding play Roberts scored the Bulldogs' only touchdown on a pass in 7-13 loss to Novato.

Social Service Christmas Tea Will Have Surprises In Store

Enthusiasm is gaining momentum for members and guests who will attend the annual Christmas Tea of the Social Service Auxiliary, for this year there are many surprises in store.

The invitations, which were designed by Mrs. Arthur W. Fay, included a Santa's stocking into which each person will be privileged to place a contribution for those less fortunate than himself. Mrs. Paul E. Lundberg, Jr., is in charge of mailing.

Santa himself will greet the guests, and helping him to place the stockings on a beautiful white Tree of Charity will be Mesdames Marius Cordone and David Anglin. In charge of the guest book will be Mrs. Carl Brown.

Receiving guests will be the Father James O'Shea, Marin County director of Catholic Social Service; Mrs. George Geramoni, Auxiliary president, and the executive committee, consisting of Mesdames Roger Yore, Charles O. Jones, William Seeger, John De Maria, Grant Haling, Victor Earl, Arthur Fay and Louis Pometta.

The women responsible for the Tea are Mesdames George S. Collins and Harold J. Haley. Mrs. Stanley C. Lawrence and Mrs. Arthur Luchetti are handling properties.

THE DECOR

Mrs. G. Thomas Quigg and her decorating committee promise an array of outstanding arrangements which may be purchased; with a portion of the proceeds going to the Social Service Christmas Charities. The welcoming doors will be decorated with a colorful assortment of Christmas door-knockers. The three fireplaces will be adorned with impressive arrangements suitable for anyone's mantle. There will be a Christmas tree formation entirely covered with little corsages which may be purchased to wear or to decorate Christmas packages.

Throughout the reception room and dining room will be glamorous wall arrangements, as well as table displays. The white tea table will have a red and silver centerpiece.

Mrs. Alfred Kirby, chairman, tells of three outstanding awards. Mrs. John J. Fracchia has completed by hand a beautiful white table cloth carrying out the theme of "Santa's stocking." The cloth is applied with red and green glittered stockings. A life size doll, which stands like a three year old child, has been dressed by Mrs. Fracchia and Mrs. Albert Locati. Mrs. Jack V. Singer dressed a Madame Alexander doll in handmade ski clothes all ready to go to Squaw Valley. This doll will be using skis brought back from Austria by Mrs. Singer. Mrs. Fracchia and Mrs. Edward Barry are co-chairmen of the Social Service "Dolls for Christmas" committee.

TOY DISPLAY

Many, many reconditioned toys will be displayed the day of the Tea. The women who have devoted hours to this endeavor are Mesdames Arthur Fay, Edwin Smith, Rinaldo Sciaroni, Jr., John Borzinni, Alvin Massoni, Aloysius Nathe, Ralph McCulloch and Mrs. Marjorie Du Bain. Mrs. Eugene Cullen is chairman of the "Toys for Christmas."

Displayed on the lower floor of Meadowlands, along with the toys and dolls, will be clothes made by members of the sewing committee headed by Mrs. Fred Enemark. The sewing division has a sponsorship group who provide the funds for materials and "little extras," and the response this year has been very gratifying.

Three young daughters of members have been asked to model the clothes, and they are Linda Jones, Suzy Enemark and Anne Sciaroni.

The main highlight of the afternoon will be the Christmas carols which will be sung by the Dominican College Madrigal Group, whose director is Mrs. Winifred Baker. The singers will be dressed in green

Artist To Speak On Holiday Decor At Club Meeting

Christmas decorations should have a religious mood, according to Mrs. Aaron Rucker, who will demonstrate some of her work and explain ways to decorate for the holidays, at the meeting of Marin Catholic High School Women's Club on Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Rucker is a professional sculptress. Her original work was done for Catholic churches in the form of wood carving. She has been on the executive planning committee of the Oakland Holiday Decorations Show, under the auspices of the Oakland park department, for the past seven years. Her display, consisting of a 15-foot Madonna and two 12-foot angels, carved from wood, is a special feature of the show this year. For five years she was on the teaching staff of the College of Marin and is currently holding classes in San Rafael which are open to new students.

Mrs. Wesley Phelps, program chairman for Marin Catholic Women's Club, will introduce Mrs. Rucker after a short business meeting. Mothers of the freshman class serving refreshments will include Mrs. J. Stanley Lawrence, chairman; Mrs. John Jones and Mrs. Andrew Pansini.

'The Brave One' Is Chosen For Junior Museum's Benefit Film

"The Brave One" is the movie selected by the Service League of the Junior Museum of Marin for their fifth annual benefit movie. This traditional event is held every year on the Friday following Thanksgiving Day, a school holiday. Scheduled for Nov. 27 at 1:30 p.m., this children's movie will be presented at three theaters simultaneously—Rafael, Sequoia, and Tamalpais.

"The Brave One" is a full-length RKO film in color and cinemascope photographed in Mexico. It has received the Parent's Magazine Special Merit award for showing warm family life and Mexican traditions. It is the story of a Mexican boy who rescues an orphaned bull calf, of his love for his pet, and of his struggle to keep him from the usual destiny in the arena. Scenes in the village school, pleasant home life on the ranch where his father works as a vaquero, beautiful Mexican countryside, all combine to make this film instructional as well as absorbing.

Besides this main feature, a fantasy, "The Red Balloon," will also be shown. This portrays the carefree world of childhood—a world in which it is common sense for a boy to be late for school rather than abandon his red balloon, especially when it is a magic balloon!

Chairman of the event is Mrs. John W. Scott of Ross. Area representatives in charge of tickets are Mrs. Ragnar Thanning in San Rafael; Mrs. W. G. Holiday in Ross Valley; and Mrs. Floyd Jergesen in Southern Marin. Mrs. Clyde Stevens and Mrs. Arthur R. Ablin of San Rafael, and Mrs. Edward Torney of Kentfield are handling the printing.

Tickets are available at the Junior Museum in San Rafael and from members of the Service League.

The proceeds from the movie will go to the benefit of the Junior Museum of Marin located at 76 Albert Park lane, San Rafael, where nature exhibits and live animals are maintained for the use of children. Thanks to the Junior Museum such animals as chinchillas, owls, and even bluebellied lizards are no longer storybook creatures. They're house pets!

Mrs. Smith's illness caused by being unable to feast her husband's company's president on a moment's notice was not unusual. For all such cases, I have found an unfailing cure. India Travelogue To Be Presented By Church Guild

The public will have an opportunity to travel through India via sound and color film when Joe Cimino Jr. presents "Sarri and Dhoti" at Christ Church Guild Hall in Sausalito on Wednesday, at 8:15 p.m.

The show, second in the winter series sponsored by St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, portrays the India of yesterday and today. The camera pursues a zig-zag course from south to north through Hyderabad, Bombay, Agra, New Delhi, a side trip to Nepal and east to Calcutta. This remarkable hour-long film portrays city and village homes, cooking, care of children, temple worship, holiday revelry, wedding festivals, animal and human powered irrigation, harvest and transport, artists at work, musicians, dancers and snake charmers, holy men and the unique role of the cow in Indian culture; a rare filming of a cremation ceremony, ancient temples, imposing mausoleums of the Magul emperors, palaces of the Maharajas, the Taj Mahal, burning ghats and expiatory bathing in the sacred Ganges; and the color of India in dress and architecture.

A San Francisco business man and world traveler, Joe Cimino Jr. made "Sarri and Dhoti" during a recent trip of several months to the Far East. Major distances were covered by airplane with between-flight excursions into villages and the countryside by automobile. A member of the Golden Gate Cinematographers Club, Cimino has delighted Bay Area audiences with his films on many occasions.

Col. Max Van Rossum Daum will introduce Cimino. A small fee will be taken at the door to benefit the Guild's church work fund. Mrs. Willard A. Hall is president and Mrs. L. S. Zipperian is projects chairman of St. Brigid's Guild.

COLD FEET . . . ?

A generation ago some people thought rubbing the soles of the feet with grease would ward off a head cold. Today, we know better. Adequate rest and a well-balanced diet go a long way toward preventing colds. But, sometimes even the best precautions aren't good enough. When you are ill—whether you have a cold or something more serious—effective medications are important. They can be the difference between pain or comfort . . . slow or fast recovery. Let your physician decide the remedies you need. Then come to us for the prescribed medication.

Santa Venetia P-TA Will Hear Rodrigo

Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., in the multi-purpose room at Santa Venetia Junior High School, the Parent-Teacher Assn., will present "Father's and Son's night."

The evening will start with a flag ceremony conducted by members of the Welbelos Den Pack 63 of San Rafael Meadows. There will be no business meeting held this month as the entire evening is to be devoted to dad's.

Hostesses for the evening include Mesdames Robert C. Hook, Earl Berg, Carl Fry Jr., and Norman Marks.

The plan was advanced as 150 lawmakers from all the NATO countries except Luxembourg met in their annual conference designed to strengthen the western alliance.

IQ Tests That Are Inaccurate Can Injure Youngsters Badly

Most schools use group intelligence tests. But do they use them wisely? I've been traveling, visiting schools, and I'm worried.

I found some school leaders who think the tests always are accurate. That's a mistake. What's a group intelligence test? It is a test developed by experts to measure intelligence and tried out on thousands of children. It is printed in booklet form. All the children in a class take it together. The teacher tells them when to start and when to stop.

We also have group achievement tests. They measure reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, social studies, science and so on.

What's wrong with group intelligence tests? Simply that they are often inaccurate. Your little Mary has a tummy ache when she takes the group intelligence test. She's worried and can't concentrate. She gets a much lower score than she deserves. Thereafter she may be labeled a dumbbell. She may be steered away from college or into a class for retarded children. She may be hurt badly. See why I'm worried?

I've worked with group intelligence tests for more than 20 years. I've tried out many different tests with thousands of children and I've learned to be skeptical.

There is only one way to get an accurate measure of your child's intelligence. Have a qualified psychologist give an individual intelligence test. Even then you may need to have another test given later, to make sure.

Don't let people put your child into a pigeon-hole permanently on the strength of a single group intelligence test.

India Rejects Red Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru today rejected Communist China's proposals for mutual troop withdrawals along the disputed Tibetan-Indian border and for an immediate meeting with Premier Chou Enlai.

Nehru told anxious members of Parliament that Chou's No. 7 proposal for troop withdrawals seemed impractical.

Suit Filed Over Ranch

A San Rafael resident has filed suit in Nevada for a property settlement involving a possible half-million-dollar payment.

But Barrien P. Anderson Jr. of 20 Moncada way explained today that "what I want is the ranch" rather than the $500,000 asked for non-performance of contract.

Anderson's complaint in Reno involves a 10,000-acre property settlement in Humboldt County, alleging that he agreed with the Boccardo Corp. to buy the Alder Creek ranch and lease the adjoining Big Creek ranch.

A corporation employee, the suit says, leased the property to another party. None of the defendants is from Marin County.

The complaint asks that contract terms be met and $50,000 damages awarded, or half a million dollars be paid if the contract isn't met.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

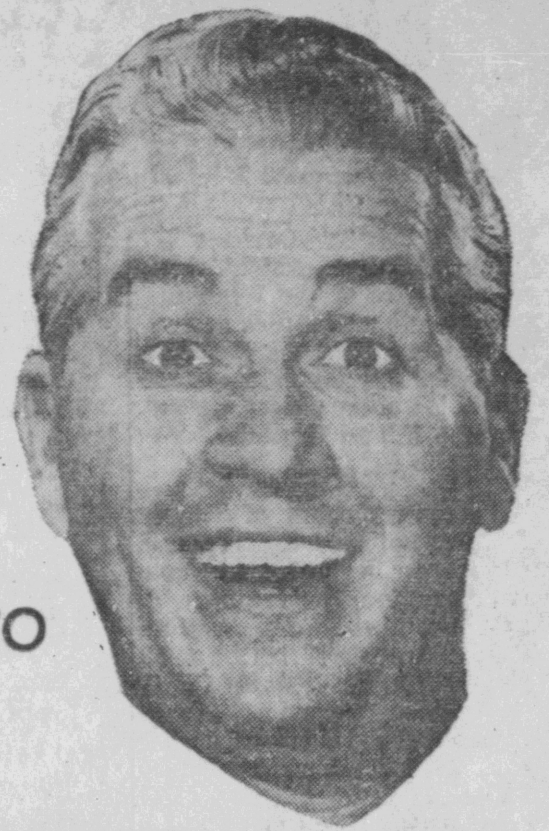

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Decongestant Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Jubilee Effort Set By Camp Fire Girls

This article was written by Philip Haring, public relations office of the Wine Institute, whose home is in San Anselmo, as his individual contribution to public understanding of the causes served by the United Crusade).

By PHILIP HARING

I hadn't thought of it just that way before, but Camp Fire Girls are beginning to show their age, too. Not the individual girls, the organization. Camp Fire Girls will be 50 years old in 1960. Marin County, which supports them through the United Crusade, won't look the same thereafter. It's true.

The girls — 2,300 of them in Marin County from the ages of 7 through 17 — are joining for a golden jubilee effort in honor of their 50th anniversary. Work began this month. Would you believe it, they're already a bunch of gold diggers.

Miss Joan Yulo, executive director for Camp Fire in Marin, explained everything.

Two of the golden jubilee projects for Marin will be tree planting and the fashioning of a totem pole. A community totem pole.

Even as you read this, the 1,300 or more Bluebirds (grades 2-3-4), 850 Camp Fire Girls (grades 5-6-7-8 and 100 Horizon Girls (high school age) are surveying areas where more trees are needed. Places like school grounds, parks and avenues.

Don't be alarmed if a girls' small face pokes through the greenery; she's checking on the tree potential.

When the surveys are turned in to Miss Yulo and her four-woman staff of three district directors and a secretary they'll check to make sure the kind of trees requested will grow in Marin, won't clog up sewers with their roots, and won't cause pint-sized girls a peck of trouble.

This winter fragile bare-root saplings will be turned over to the girls for potting (they're already collecting gallon cans) and for watching over them a year or two until the young trees are ready to plant in permanent locations.

"One part of the plan is to teach these children of our urban society how to care for living things and to show them the value of planning—and planting—ahead," said Miss Yulo.

Now, about that totem pole. "Well," said Miss Yulo, "that's part of the theory behind the Camp Fire Girls. We base much of our philosophy on Indian symbolism and Indian war and..."

"You mean shooting arrows around and scalping Boy Scouts?"

"Oh my, I didn't say Indian 'war.' I said Indian 'lore.'"

"We're going to build and present, as part of our 1960 golden jubilee, a real totem pole to the community which will tell the story of Marin County from the time of the Indians up to the present day."

"Each of the five Camp Fire districts in Marin will present ideas on what should be portrayed on the five sections in which the totem pole will be carved. The best ideas will be combined for the final design."

I asked: "The girls... are they going to carve it, too?"

Miss Yulo replied: "Uh, no. The chairman of the golden jubilee for Marin, Mrs. Robert Mills of Terra Linda, has volunteered her husband for that job. He's a plastic surgeon—said it's be a new medium."

I brought up the gold-digging bit.

"The trouble is," Miss Yulo hedged. "It takes money to buy trees and build a totem pole... and run a hundred other projects I could mention. So we're urging our girls to save their pennies to finance—in part—the 50th birthday celebration."

"To get the gold rush project started with a bang we proclaimed Oct. 18-25 as 'Panning for Pennies Week.'"

So I said: "With all this United Crusade money coming in I don't dig the need for all this extra loot."

She rallied fast.

"We got only $19,000 of our budget from United Crusade this year and had to raise the rest of the $29,100 we needed

ELIZABETH BOGGS
No cure for own son

through our own resources. Last year people didn't give too well and all the agencies had to cut back. We were pinched. We supervise a program for 2,300 girls with five full-time workers—all for less than $30,000. This year, if more people give to UBAC we can cut out some of our own fundraising... work toward the 'one big give' ideal."

By this time I was as much behind Camp Fire Girls as Miss Yulo. I said:

"Don't forget your Camp Kilowana on Mt. St. Helena and your day camp program here in Marin are entirely self-supporting. This means the Crusade money can be used for necessary council administration and operating costs."

"And another thing, Miss Yulo. Remember that planting trees and building totem poles and digging for gold... uh, pennies... isn't all your girls do. The little Bluebirds have projects to teach them the world around them... or at least to get along with the people and things around them. The 10-11-12 year-old Camp Fire Girls have community betterment chores."

"The high school girls in the Horizon clubs go on to more involved work, not neglecting the care and encouragement of boys. Altogether, it's the kind of training in American living we need for healthy, happy families... for people proud of their surroundings and willing to care for them. I'm for it, Miss Yulo. And I'm glad my 8-year-old daughter Annie is a Blue Bird!"

"Well, thanks, mister," said Miss Yulo. "Got any pennies?"

AID FOR RETARDED

Career Helping Many Stems From Tragedy

UPPER MONTCLAIR, N.J. (P)—Out of personal tragedy, Elizabeth Boggs has built a career that is bringing new hope to thousands of once hopeless children.

"When our only son suffered an illness in infancy that damaged his brain, I was determined to find out everything there was to know about this thing, to help him if possible, and if not, to help other children," she said.

As president of the National Assn. for Retarded Children, Mrs. Boggs has done much in the last decade to improve the lot of other children, although no cure could be found for her own son, David, 13, who had to be put under institutional care.

With her husband, Fitzhugh W. Boggs, a research chemist, she was active in the first organizations in New Jersey for the care of retarded children. She since has widened her work to a national scope.

"I became interested in this subject, over and above our personal problem," she said. "I took several courses in it, and studied everything I could find in this or allied fields."

"The first major job we did in New Jersey was starting classes for children excluded from public schools. In 1950 there were two such classes, the next year seven. Now we have 600 classes in the state for educable children and 125 for the trainable ones — many a part of the public school system.

"I think it's safe to say that at present there are some 12,000 mentally retarded but trainable children in public school systems throughout the country."

An educable child, says Mrs. Boggs, is one that is mentally slow, but still capable of learning. A trainable child is more severely retarded, but still can be trained in social habits and can eventually do useful work.

"Research in the last 10 years has proved that from 80 to 85 per cent of the mentally retarded persons in the United States can, with training, become useful citizens, support themselves and stay out of trouble," she said.

Mrs. Boggs is eager to make the point that help is available now everywhere in the country, for all income groups, as soon as parents discover that a baby is mentally retarded, she says, they should seek professional advice.

She explains: "Continuing diagnosis is vitally important, starting as early as possible. There are special clinics for retarded children in every section of the country."

"With the greater facilities available today, it is becoming more and more possible to keep the children at home, rather than in institutions, if they are not severely retarded."
